- Some events may have material impact qualitatively instead of quantitatively; and
- Some events may not be material at present but may have a material impact in future.

Note: The Risk Factors set out below have been determined on the basis of materiality and their potential impact on our Company. Unless specified or quantified in the relevant risk factors below, we are not in a position to quantify the financial implication of any of the risks described in this section. In this Draft Prospectus, any discrepancies in any table between total and the sums of the amount listed are due to rounding off. Any percentage amounts, as set forth in this section unless otherwise indicated, has been calculated on the basis of the amount disclosed in the Restated Financial Statements.

INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

1. Our Company and our Promoters are party to certain legal proceedings. Any adverse decision in such proceedings may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our Company and our Promoters are party to certain legal proceedings. These proceedings are pending at different levels of adjudication before various legal forums. While the possibility of future legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business cannot be ruled out, we believe that there are no other outstanding matters that are or may be material in nature or that could have an adverse impact on our business, operations, financial condition, or reputation, that have not been disclosed in this Draft Prospectus. The Company has disclosed all legal proceedings which fall within the threshold of material litigation and no litigation which is non-material has been disclosed.

2. Our business is seasonal, which may result in fluctuations in our operating results and limit comparability across reporting periods.

The Agri-inputs industry in India is inherently seasonal. Our procurement of raw materials and sales of products are largely dependent on agricultural cycles, with a substantial portion of our seed products sold during the Kharif season and certain products during the Rabi season. Agricultural activity in India is predominantly reliant on monsoon rainfall, and variations in the timing, intensity, or distribution of rainfall significantly influence cultivation patterns and demand for our products.

We recognize revenue upon the sale of our Agri-input products. Sales of seeds occur only after the seeds have been planted, harvested, and processed, resulting in lower revenues during planting and harvesting periods as compared to subsequent periods. During periods of reduced sales activity, we continue to incur fixed operating expenses, which may adversely affect our financial performance.

Due to the seasonal nature of our business, our results may vary across quarters, half-years, and financial years, and may not be comparable between reporting periods. Typically, sales during the first half of the financial year (April to September) are higher than those in the second half (October to March). Further, any delay or change in rainfall patterns may defer sales from one reporting period or financial year to another, thereby impacting the comparability of our financial results.

In order to reduce our dependence on seasonal agri-input products, we propose to establish a manufacturing facility for NPK water soluble fertilizers, which generally experience relatively stable demand across agricultural cycles as compared to certain seasonal products. However, the proposed facility is subject to implementation, operational, regulatory and market risks, and there can be no assurance that the proposed expansion will successfully reduce the seasonal nature of our business or improve our financial performance. Any delay in implementation, cost overruns, lower-than-expected demand or operational inefficiencies in relation to such proposed facility may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

3. Our business is exposed to risks arising from adverse weather conditions, climate change, crop diseases and pest infestations, which may adversely affect agricultural activity, demand for our products and our financial performance.

Our business is significantly dependent on the performance of the agricultural sector in India and is therefore vulnerable to adverse weather conditions, climate change and other factors affecting agricultural output. Changes in climatic patterns, including deficient or excessive rainfall, floods, droughts, unseasonal rains, cyclones, heatwaves and other extreme weather events, may adversely affect crop health, sowing cycles, acreage under cultivation and overall agricultural productivity in the regions in which we operate.

Further, changing climatic conditions and weather variations may contribute to increased incidence and spread of crop diseases, pests and infestations. Such events may adversely affect agricultural production and reduce demand for our products, including pesticides, fertilizers, micronutrients and plant growth regulators. Adverse weather conditions may also result in delays or reduction in sowing activities, crop failures, changes in crop patterns and lower agricultural yields, which may adversely impact demand for our products.

Any significant reduction in agricultural activity or crop yields may result in inventory mismatches, accumulation of slow-moving or unsold inventory, increased discounting and pressure on our operating margins. In addition, lower agricultural income and crop losses may adversely affect the purchasing capacity and liquidity of farmers, dealers and distributors, which may lead to delayed payments, lower re-ordering levels and increased credit risks. Such developments may adversely affect our working capital requirements, cash flows and operating results.

Furthermore, repeated or prolonged climatic disruptions may increase uncertainty in demand forecasting and inventory planning, resulting in fluctuations in our business and financial performance. Any significant or recurring adverse weather conditions, climate-related disruptions, crop diseases or pest infestations could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

4. Intense competition, product innovation and changing customer preferences in the agri-input industry may adversely affect demand for our products, market share and profitability.

The agri-input industry in India is highly competitive and characterized by continuous product innovation, changing agronomic practices and evolving customer preferences. We compete with large domestic and multinational companies as well as organized and unorganized market participants engaged in the manufacture and distribution of fertilizers, micronutrients, plant growth regulators, pesticides, bio-stimulants and other agricultural inputs.

Competitive pressures may result in pricing challenges, increased marketing and promotional expenses, reduced margins and loss of market share. Further, changing farmer preferences, increasing focus on crop productivity and sustainability, and the introduction of new products and formulations by competitors may reduce demand for certain of our products or require us to continuously expand and diversify our product portfolio.

Our ability to remain competitive depends on our ability to anticipate market trends, strengthen our distribution network and dealer relationships and respond effectively to changing customer requirements and industry developments. Any failure to adapt to changing competitive dynamics, customer preferences or market conditions in a timely manner may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and growth prospects.

5. Our Company had undertaken business activities in the past which were not a part of the main object clause of the MOA of the Company. Further rectification of the MOA has been done. However, the Company may be subjected to penalties for any of our past actions in this respect.

Our Company commenced trading activities during Financial year 2022-23, which were not expressly covered under the erstwhile main objects clause of the Memorandum of Association (“MoA”) of our Company and accordingly, such activities were not in compliance with the provisions of Section 4(1)(c) of the Companies Act, 2013. No third party has been adversely affected as a result of the aforesaid non-compliance and, as on the date of this Draft Prospectus, our Company has not received any claims or disputes from any customer, supplier, vendor or other stakeholders in relation thereto.

In order to regularise the aforesaid non-compliance, our Shareholders, pursuant to a special resolution dated May 7, 2026, approved the amendment of the main objects clause of the MoA to include such business activities. Thereafter, our Company filed Form MGT-14 with the Registrar of Companies (“RoC”), and the RoC issued a certificate of registration on May 22, 2026, evidencing registration of such amendment. Further, our Company has filed an application for adjudication under Section 454 of the Companies Act, 2013 with the RoC on June 2, 2026, in respect of the aforesaid non-compliance.

As on the date of this Draft Prospectus, no notice has been received, and no penalty has been imposed upon our Company in relation to the aforesaid non-compliance. However, there can be no assurance that the regulatory authorities will not initiate proceedings or impose penalties in connection with such past non-compliance. Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, our Company may be subject to a penalty of up to ₹2.00 Lakhs. Any such regulatory action, penalty or adverse order may adversely affect our reputation, business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

6. We rely on third-party suppliers for procurement of raw materials and do not have long-term supply arrangements with them. Any disruption, shortage or increase in prices of raw materials may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We procure raw materials required for our products, including fertilizers, micronutrients, NPK water-soluble fertilizers, plant growth regulators (bio-stimulants) and seeds, from third-party suppliers. We generally procure such raw materials through purchase orders and have not entered into long-term supply agreements with our suppliers. Accordingly, we are exposed to risks associated with interruption, discontinuation or delay in the supply of raw materials and fluctuations in raw material prices.

The following table sets forth the purchases made from our top ten suppliers during Financial Year 2025-26, 2024-25 and 2023-24. The names and other identifying particulars of suppliers have not been disclosed due to commercial confidentiality, as disclosure of such information may reveal sensitive information relating to our procurement arrangements and supplier relationships and may adversely affect our competitive position and business interests.:

The supply and pricing of raw materials are subject to several factors beyond our control, including fluctuations in crude oil prices and commodity prices, inflation, changes in demand and supply dynamics, import duties, transportation and logistics constraints, geopolitical developments, adverse economic conditions, natural disasters, pandemics and other unforeseen events. Such factors may affect the availability, quality and pricing of raw materials procured by us.

Further, our suppliers may fail to adhere to agreed delivery schedules or quality standards or may discontinue their relationship with us. Any delay, interruption or cessation in the supply of raw materials may adversely affect our ability to manufacture or supply products in a timely manner, which may result in delays in servicing customer orders, loss of customers and reduced revenues. In addition, we may not be able to procure raw materials from alternate sources on commercially acceptable terms or at all or pass on any increase in raw material costs to our customers. Any significant or prolonged disruption in the availability of raw materials or increase in procurement costs could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

7. There have been certain instances of delays in payment of statutory dues by our Company and filing of statutory returns by our Company. Any further delays in payment of statutory dues may attract financial penalties and may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our Company is required to comply with various statutory obligations and make payments to governmental and regulatory authorities from time to time, including but not limited to provident fund contributions, employee state insurance contributions, professional tax, goods and services tax, tax deducted at source and income tax.

We are subject to ongoing reporting and compliance requirements and are required to make periodic payments of statutory dues. The table below sets forth the details of the statutory dues paid by our Company in relation to its employees for the year/period indicated:

There have been instances of delays in payment of certain statutory dues during the last three Fiscals. Although such delays were subsequently rectified and the dues were paid along with applicable interest, where required, there can be no assurance that similar instances will not occur in the future. Any delay or default in payment of statutory dues may result in the imposition of interest, penalties and other regulatory actions by the concerned authorities. Further, any such non-compliance may adversely affect our reputation and could result in additional financial liabilities and increased compliance costs. Consequently, any delay or default in payment of statutory dues may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

8. Our operations are subject to significant working capital requirements. Any inability to maintain adequate working capital or obtain additional financing may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our business is working capital intensive in nature and requires substantial funds to finance inventories, trade receivables and other current assets. The details of our working capital requirements for the periods indicated below are set forth in the following table:

(₹ in Lakhs)

As certified by M/s. Ratan Chandak & Co LLP, Chartered Accountants, Statutory Auditor of the Company, by way of their certificate dated August 28, 2026.*

Our growing scale of operations and proposed expansion are expected to increase our working capital requirements. Consequently, our ability to maintain sufficient liquidity and meet our working capital requirements depends on timely realization of receivables, efficient inventory management, availability of bank borrowings and access to other sources of financing. Any inability to maintain adequate cash flows, obtain additional financing on commercially acceptable terms or at all, or manage our working capital requirements effectively may adversely affect our ability to fund our operations and growth plans.

Further, any delay or default in recovery of amounts due from our customers may adversely affect our liquidity and working capital cycle and may require us to seek additional funding. There can be no assurance that sufficient funds will be available to us as and when required. Any inability to maintain adequate working capital or obtain additional financing may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. For further details regarding our working capital requirements, please refer to the section “Objects of the Issue” on page no. 81 of this Draft Prospectus.

9. We have experienced negative cash flows from operating activities in the past and may continue to experience negative cash flows in the future, which could adversely affect our liquidity, business operations and growth plans.

We have experienced negative cash flows from operating activities during certain periods in the past and may continue to experience negative cash flows in the future. The following table sets forth our cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities for the periods indicated:

(₹ in Lakhs)

Particulars	Financial Year ended
	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024
Net Cash from Operating Activities	-306.15	-34.91	-208.43
Net Cash Used for Investing Activities	-158.32	-49.22	-191.18
Net Cash from Financing Activities	418.96	80.03	315.22

Our negative cash flows from operating activities during Financial year 2026, Financial year 2025 and Financial Year 2024 were primarily attributable to higher inventory levels and increased trade receivables arising from the extension of credit to customers. Further, our cash flows from investing activities have been impacted by capital expenditure incurred towards acquisition of property, plant and equipment and advances paid for capital assets.

The negative cash flows from operating activities were primarily attributable to the increase in working capital requirements arising from the growth and scale of our operations. For Financial Year 2025-26, notwithstanding an our operating cash flows were adversely impacted mainly by an increase in inventories of ₹577.95 lakhs, increase in trade receivables of ₹580.05 lakhs, increase in loans and advances of ₹133.20 lakhs, increase in other current assets of ₹20.32 lakhs, decrease in trade payables of ₹133.38 lakhs and income tax payments of ₹114.72 lakhs. For Financial Year 2024-25, the negative operating cash flow was primarily attributable to an increase in inventories of ₹589.81 lakhs and trade receivables of ₹141.94 lakhs, along with movement in other current assets and liabilities, which was partly offset by an increase in trade payables of ₹147.28 lakhs. Further, for Financial Year 2023-24, the negative operating cash flow was primarily attributable to an increase in inventories of ₹538.22 lakhs and trade receivables of ₹115.47 lakhs, together with movements in trade payables, provisions and payment of income taxes. Accordingly, despite the Company generating operating profits before working capital changes during the respective Financial Years, the increased deployment of funds towards inventories, receivables and other working capital requirements resulted in negative cash flows from operating activities.

Negative cash flows from operating activities over extended periods may adversely affect our liquidity and may limit our ability to fund our working capital requirements, capital expenditure, debt servicing obligations and growth initiatives from internal accruals. Consequently, we may be required to rely on additional borrowings or other external sources of financing, which may not be available on commercially acceptable terms or at all. For further details, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on page no 296 of this Draft Prospectus.

10. Inventories and trade receivables constitute a significant portion of our current assets. Any inability to effectively manage our inventories and recover our trade receivables may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Inventories and trade receivables constitute a significant portion of our current assets. Our results of operations and financial condition are dependent upon our ability to efficiently manage inventory levels and timely recover amounts due from customers. During Financial Year 2025-26, Financial Year 2024-25 and Financial Year 2023-24, our inventories amounted to ₹1,803.64 Lakhs, ₹1,225.69 Lakhs and ₹635.88 Lakhs, respectively, while our trade receivables amounted to ₹1,777.76 Lakhs, ₹1,197.71 Lakhs and ₹1,055.77 Lakhs, respectively.

Maintaining optimal inventory levels requires us to accurately forecast customer demand, procurement requirements and market conditions. Any failure to accurately estimate demand or changes in customer preferences, seasonal factors or market conditions may result in excess inventory, inventory obsolescence or shortages of products. Such events may adversely affect our ability to meet customer requirements in a timely manner and may result in increased carrying costs, reduced margins and loss of business opportunities.

Further, we extend credit facilities to our customers in the ordinary course of business and are exposed to the risk of delays or defaults in collection of trade receivables. Our ability to recover trade receivables depends upon, among other things, the financial condition, liquidity and creditworthiness of our customers. Any deterioration in the financial condition of our customers, delays in collection or failure to recover amounts due may result in bad debts, increased provisioning requirements and reduced cash flows.

In addition, any delay or failure on our part to supply products in accordance with customer requirements or agreed timelines may result in delayed payments or non-payment by customers. Such delays or defaults in collection may adversely affect our liquidity and may require us to arrange additional financing, which could increase our finance costs and adversely affect our profitability.

Accordingly, any inability to effectively manage our inventories and recover trade receivables in a timely manner may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

11. Our Company has not complied with certain provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 in the past. Such non-compliances may expose us and our directors to penalties and regulatory actions, which may adversely affect our business, reputation, financial condition and cash flows.

Our Company is required to comply with various provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules made thereunder, including timely filing of statutory forms and making requisite disclosures with the Registrar of Companies ("RoC"). In the past, there have been certain instances of delayed filings, erroneous filings and procedural non-compliances under the Companies Act, 2013. Certain forms were filed beyond the prescribed timelines and additional filing fees were paid in connection therewith. Further, certain discrepancies and non-compliances have been identified during the course of legal and secretarial due diligence. As certified by M/s. Ritul Parmar & Associates, Company Secretary, Practicing Company Secretaries by way of their certificate dated August 28, 2026.*

Further, certain observations have been made in the due diligence exercise in relation to delayed filing of e-forms, delayed filing of Form DPT-3 and MSME returns, non-registration of charges in respect of certain borrowings, non-maintenance of audit trail in accounting software and other procedural non-compliances under the Companies Act, 2013. Certain past allotments of equity shares and delayed filing of Form MGT-14 in relation thereto may also expose our Company and its officers to adjudication proceedings and penalties under the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

In connection with certain past procedural and compliance-related lapses identified during the course of legal and secretarial due diligence, our Company has voluntarily filed applications for adjudication under Section 454 of the Companies Act, 2013 before the Registrar of Companies seeking regularisation of such non-compliances. These matters include, inter alia, (i) certain procedural lapses and disclosure-related non-compliances in connection with past allotments of Equity Shares and filings of Form PAS-3, including incorrect statutory references, non-disclosure of certain adjustments and receipt of subscription monies prior to the prescribed timelines, (ii) carrying on certain business activities relating to all types of seeds, Mixtures of NPK different composition and of different portions and allied products prior to the amendment of the Main Object Clause of the Memorandum of Association to expressly include such activities, and (iii) non-maintenance of a compliant audit trail feature in the accounting software as required under the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the rules made thereunder. As on the date of this Draft Prospectus, the aforesaid adjudication applications are pending before the Registrar of Companies and no final orders have been passed in relation thereto.

Further, certain adjudication proceedings in respect of the aforesaid matters are pending before the Registrar of Companies pursuant to applications voluntarily filed by our Company. There can be no assurance regarding the outcome of such proceedings or the quantum of penalties, compounding fees or other regulatory actions, if any, that may be imposed. Any adverse order or action by the relevant regulatory authorities may result in additional costs, diversion of management time and resources, reputational impact and other liabilities, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

As certified by M/s. Ratan Chandak & Co LLP, Chartered Accountants, Statutory Auditor of the Company, by way of their certificate dated August 28, 2026.*

Our Company has entered into transactions with related parties in the past and may continue to enter into such transactions in the future. Although such transactions have been undertaken in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and other applicable laws, there can be no assurance that such transactions could not have been entered into on more favourable terms with unrelated parties. Further, future related party transactions may involve potential conflicts of interest and there can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. For detailed information, please refer to “Restated Financial Statement – Annexure XXIX– Restated Statement of Related Party Transactions” under the chapter titled “Restated Financial Statement” beginning on page no. 238 of this Draft Prospectus.

13. Our business is subject to regulatory and government policy uncertainties, including changes in subsidy frameworks, which may adversely affect product demand, pricing, availability and our results of operations.

Our operations are subject to various central and state laws and regulations governing pesticides, fertilizers, micronutrients, plant growth regulators, bio-stimulants and other agricultural inputs. We are required to comply with various requirements relating to product registrations, renewals, labeling, packaging, import controls and other approvals from statutory authorities, including the Central Insecticides Board and Registration Committee (“CIBRC”) and other competent authorities. Any changes in applicable laws, regulations or compliance requirements may increase our operating costs or restrict our ability to market certain products.

Further, the agri-input industry in India is significantly influenced by government policies and subsidy mechanisms, particularly in relation to fertilizers. As on the date of this Draft Prospectus, our Company has not availed any subsidy or incentive from the Government of India or any state government in relation to its operations. However, our Company may, subject to eligibility and availability, apply for and avail benefits under existing or future schemes. Any changes in subsidy rates, agricultural policies, import regulations, environmental regulations or restrictions on raw materials and active ingredients may affect product demand, pricing, availability and market dynamics.

Any inability to effectively respond to such regulatory changes or adverse policy developments could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

14. Our Promoters entities are engaged in businesses operating in the same or similar line of business as our Company, which may give rise to potential conflicts of interest.

Our Promoters Mr. Machhindra Bhaurao Nalkar and Mr. Shivaji Machhindra Nalkar Jaikisan Agrotech and Kisan Agrochemicals, are engaged in businesses operating in the agro-input sector. Although such entities presently operate independently and are not engaged in direct competition with our Company in terms of their existing operations, they are engaged in the same or similar line of business as our Company.

As these entities are owned or controlled by our Promoters, there may be situations involving actual or perceived conflicts of interest in relation to business opportunities, customers, suppliers, product offerings, expansion into new markets or allocation of management time and resources. Further, such entities may diversify or expand their business activities in the future into areas that overlap with the operations of our Company.

In order to address potential conflicts of interest, our Promoters have a Non-Compete Agreement in favour of our Company, pursuant to which they have agreed, subject to the terms and conditions contained therein, not to engage in or carry on any business that competes with the business of our Company during the subsistence of such agreement. The Company believes that such arrangement provides an additional safeguard against potential business conflicts.

However, there can be no assurance that disputes or perceived conflicts of interest will not arise in the future or that the Non-Compete Agreement will completely eliminate all potential conflicts. Any such conflict or perception thereof may adversely affect our business, reputation, financial condition, results of operations and the interests of our shareholders.

15. Certain variations exist in the description of the address of our Registered Office in the underlying lease documents and statutory records, which may require us to provide additional clarifications or supporting documents.

Our Registered Office is situated at Office Nos. C-28 and C-29, Third Floor, Prozone Trade Centre, Chikalthana Industrial Area, Chhatrapati Sambhajnagar (formerly Aurangabad), Maharashtra, and is occupied by our Company pursuant to a long-term lease arrangement valid up to March 31, 2066.

The address recorded with the Registrar of Companies, under our GST registrations and in certain other statutory records reflects the premises as being situated on the third floor and bearing PIN Code 431006. However, certain lease documents executed and registered in earlier years contain variations in the description of the same premises, including references to the fourth floor and PIN Code 431001. The maintenance receipts relating to the premises reflect PIN Code 431006.

Our Company has confirmed that these variations relate to the same premises and that there has been no dispute regarding the identity, possession or use of our Registered Office. However, regulatory authorities or third parties may seek additional clarifications, confirmations or supporting documents in relation to these variations. This may require us to undertake administrative or documentation-related actions to align the address descriptions across the relevant records. Any such requirement may result in additional time and costs, although we do not expect it to have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or operations.

16. Certain prior years' financial statements were not presented in accordance with the statutory rounding-off requirements prescribed under the Companies Act, 2013, which may expose our Company to regulatory observations or penalties.

The numerical figures disclosed in the audited financial statements of our Company for Financial Years 2021–22, 2022–23, and 2023-24 were not rounded off in the manner prescribed under the Companies Act, 2013 and the rules made thereunder. Although such non-compliance does not affect the underlying financial information or the true and fair view presented by such financial statements, it constitutes a deviation from the prescribed disclosure and presentation requirements.

As on the date of this Draft Prospectus, no notice has been received, and no penalty has been imposed on our Company in relation to the aforesaid non-compliance. However, there can be no assurance that the regulatory authorities will not take cognizance of such non-compliance or initiate appropriate proceedings in this regard. Any regulatory observations, adjudication proceedings or penalties in connection therewith may adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

17. A substantial portion of our Revenue from Operations is derived from the State of Maharashtra, and any adverse developments affecting the agricultural sector or our operations in Maharashtra may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our business operations and revenue are presently concentrated in the State of Maharashtra. We derived approximately 98.36%, 98.67% and 99.37% of our Revenue from Operations from Maharashtra during Financial Years 2025-26, 2024-25 and 2023-24, respectively. Our remaining revenue during these periods was derived from operations in states including Gujarat, Karnataka, Chhattisgarh and Uttar Pradesh, the contribution from which remains relatively limited.

Accordingly, our business and results of operations are significantly dependent upon agricultural activity, climatic conditions, rainfall patterns, crop cycles, demand for agricultural inputs, government policies, regulatory developments, economic conditions and the performance of our dealer and distribution network in Maharashtra. Any adverse developments in the State, including drought, deficient or excessive rainfall, crop failures, changes in cropping patterns, reduction in agricultural activity, changes in government policies or subsidies, disruption in our distribution network or reduction in demand for our products, may adversely affect our sales, revenue, business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

While we have commenced operations and are seeking to expand our business and distribution network in other states, including Gujarat, Karnataka, Chhattisgarh and Uttar Pradesh, there can be no assurance that we will be able to successfully diversify our geographical revenue base, increase our market penetration in such states or reduce our dependence on Maharashtra within the anticipated timelines or at all. Any inability to successfully expand our operations outside Maharashtra may continue to expose us to risks associated with geographic concentration

18. Our ability to obtain, renew or maintain the statutory and regulatory licenses, permits and approvals required to operate our business may have a material adverse effect on our business.

We are governed by various laws, rules, regulations and regulatory requirements applicable to our business and operations. We are required, and may continue to be required, to obtain and maintain various approvals, licenses, registrations and permits from central and state government authorities and other regulatory bodies for carrying out our business and operations. These approvals, licenses, registrations and permits may be subject to conditions, including conditions relating to their validity, renewal, scope of operations and compliance with applicable laws and regulations. We may also be required to obtain fresh approvals or make necessary amendments to our existing approvals, licenses, registrations and permits pursuant to changes in our name, constitution or corporate status, including the conversion of our Company from a private company into a public company.

While we have obtained a significant number of approvals, licenses, registrations and permits required for our business and operations, as on the date of this Draft Prospectus, no notice has been issued to us and no search or seizure proceedings have been undertaken in relation to the manufacture or sale of such unregistered products at our premises, we cannot assure you that any regulatory authority will not initiate any notice, investigation, search, seizure, penalty or other proceedings against us in the future, or that we will not be required to take remedial measures, including withdrawal or disposal of products, in respect of any products that are found to be non-compliant or unregistered. Any such regulatory action may result in financial losses, disruption of our operations, reputational damage and increased compliance costs.

In addition, certain approvals, licenses, registrations and permits obtained by us are required to be renewed from time to time and certain others may require amendment or fresh application pursuant to changes in our name or constitution, including our conversion from a private company into a public company. Although we intend to take appropriate steps to renew or amend such approvals within the applicable timelines, we cannot assure you that we will be able to obtain all such renewals, amendments or approvals in a timely manner or at all. Any delay in obtaining or failure to obtain such approvals, licenses, registrations or permits may result in additional costs, operational disruptions, restrictions on our activities or other adverse consequences, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The laws, rules and regulations applicable to our business and operations are subject to change and may become increasingly stringent. Any changes in the applicable regulatory framework, or the introduction of additional compliance requirements, may require us to incur additional expenditure, implement additional systems and controls, modify our operations or undertake other measures to ensure compliance. Such requirements may increase our compliance costs, restrict our ability to conduct our business efficiently and expose us to additional liabilities. Further, although we endeavour to comply with all applicable regulatory requirements, any actual or alleged non-compliance may result in penalties, regulatory proceedings, suspension of operations or other adverse consequences.

Furthermore, we cannot assure you that the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits obtained or to be obtained by us will not be suspended, cancelled or revoked by the relevant authorities in the event of non-compliance, alleged non-compliance or breach of any applicable terms or conditions, or pursuant to any regulatory action. Any suspension, cancellation or revocation of our approvals, licenses, registrations or permits, or any inability to obtain or renew them, could restrict or adversely affect our ability to carry out our business and operations and, consequently, adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

For further details regarding the material approvals, licenses, registrations and permits obtained or required to be obtained by us, see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 330 of this Draft Prospectus.

19. The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters is lower than the Issue Price, which may result in a notional gain to them and could lead to a perception of inequitable pricing for public investors.

Our Promoters’ average cost of acquisition of Equity shares in our Company is lower than the Issue Price of Equity Shares as given below:

Sr. No.	Name of Promoters	No. of Equity Shares held	Average Cost of Acquisition per Equity Share (₹)
1.	Mr. Machhindra Bhaurao Nalkar	60,00,000	1.67
2.	Mr. Shivaji Machhindra Nalkar	59,98,500	1.67
3.	Mrs. Aarti Akshay Nalkar	300	1.67

The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters has been calculated by taking into account the amount paid by them to acquire and shares allotted to them as reduced by amount received on sale of shares, i.e., net of sale consideration is divided by net quantity of shares acquired.

As a result, upon sale of their shareholding after the completion of the Issue, our Promoters may realize substantial gains. This disparity may lead to a perception among investors that the Promoters are benefiting disproportionately compared to public shareholders subscribing in the Issue. Further, while such gains are notional at the time of allotment and subject to market conditions, this could influence investor sentiment and may be perceived as a risk factor in terms of fairness of pricing. There can be no assurance that such perception will not adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares post-listing.

20. Our lenders have charge over our movable and immovable properties in respect of finance availed by us.

We have provided security in respect of borrowings/facilities availed by us from banks by creating charge over immovable and movable properties. The amount outstanding and payable by us as a secured borrowing (fund based as well as non-fund based) were ₹ 1,556.10 lakhs as on June 30, 2026. In case we are not able to repay our loans in time, the same may amount to a default under the loan documentation and all the penal and termination provisions therein would get triggered and the loans granted to the Company may be recalled with penal interest. This could severely affect our operations and financial condition. In addition to the above, our loan documentation includes certain conditions and covenants that require us to obtain consents from the lender bank prior to carrying out certain activities like changing shareholding/ directorship/ ownership, incurring additional indebtedness and creating any encumbrances on its assets. The lender also has the right to revoke the credit facilities at any time. Any failure to comply with any condition or covenant under our loan agreement that is not waived by the lending bank or is not otherwise cured by us, may lead to a termination of our credit facilities, acceleration of all amounts due under the said credit facilities, which may adversely affect our ability to conduct our business and operations or implement our business plans. Further, the said credit facilities can be renewed/ enhanced/ cancelled/ suspended/ reduced and the terms and conditions of the same can be altered by the lender, at their discretion. In the event, the lending bank refuse to renew/ enhance the credit facilities and/or cancel/ suspend/ reduce the said credit facilities and/or alter the terms and conditions to our derogation, then our existing operations as well as our future business prospects and financial condition may be severely affected.

21. Our business is subject to extensive regulation and requires various licenses, approvals and registrations. Any failure to obtain, maintain or renew such approvals in a timely manner may adversely affect our operations and financial condition

Our Company is engaged in the manufacturing, marketing and distribution of pesticides, fertilizers, micronutrients, plant growth regulators, bio-stimulants, seeds and allied agricultural inputs. Accordingly, our operations are subject to extensive regulation under various central and state laws relating to product registration, manufacturing, storage, transportation, labeling, sale, environmental protection and safety standards.

We are required to obtain and maintain various approvals, registrations, licenses and permits from governmental and regulatory authorities from time to time. Any delay, refusal, suspension, cancellation or non-renewal of such approvals, or any failure to comply with applicable laws and regulatory requirements, may restrict our ability to manufacture, market or sell certain products, disrupt our operations and increase our compliance costs.

Further, any adverse action by regulatory authorities, including suspension, cancellation or non-renewal of licenses and registrations, may impair our ability to conduct our business in the ordinary course and could adversely affect our reputation, business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

22. Some of our trade names and our Company's logo are not registered as of the date of this Draft Prospectus. Consequently, we may be unable to adequately protect our intellectual property rights and may also be exposed to claims alleging infringement of third-party intellectual property rights.

We currently operate under the following trade names and filed for registration of same as per details given hereunder:

As detailed above, none of the aforesaid trademarks are registered as of the date of this Draft Prospectus and the applications for registration are currently pending with the relevant authority. In respect of certain trademark applications where objections have been raised by the relevant authority, our Company has filed responses and will file response to such objections and the same are presently pending for consideration. There can be no assurance that the responses filed by us will be accepted, that the objections will be resolved in our favour, or that such applications, including the applications in respect of which no objections have presently been raised, will ultimately result in registration of the relevant trademarks within the anticipated timeframe or at all.

Our trade names, trademarks and logo are important to our brand identity, business operations and market recognition. Until the registrations are obtained, our ability to protect such intellectual property and prevent unauthorized use, imitation or misuse thereof by third parties may be limited. Any unauthorized use, imitation or misappropriation of our trade names, trademarks or logo may result in dilution of our brand, loss of goodwill, reputational harm or customer confusion, which could adversely affect our business and operations.

If any of our applications for registration are rejected, opposed or materially delayed, we may be required to continue using the relevant intellectual property without the benefit of registration or, depending upon the circumstances, modify or discontinue the use of the relevant trade name, trademark or logo and adopt alternative branding. Any such change may entail additional expenditure, disruption to our business and marketing activities and loss of brand recognition or goodwill. We may also be required to incur significant costs and devote management time and resources towards protecting and enforcing our intellectual property rights. Further, while we endeavour to ensure that our trade names, trademarks, logo and other intellectual property do not infringe the intellectual property rights of third parties, we cannot assure you that our use thereof does not, or will not, infringe any existing or future third-party intellectual property rights. We may consequently become subject to claims, demands or legal proceedings alleging infringement, passing off or other violations of third-party intellectual property rights. Irrespective of their merits, such claims or proceedings may be costly and time-consuming and may result in diversion of management's attention and resources.

If any such claim is determined against us, we may be required, to pay damages or other amounts, obtain licences and pay royalties, modify or discontinue the use of the relevant trade name, trademark or logo, or adopt alternative branding. Accordingly, our inability to obtain registration for, protect or enforce our intellectual property rights, or any actual or alleged infringement of third-party intellectual property rights, could adversely affect our business, reputation, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

23. Accidents, leakage, spillage or improper handling of our products may expose us to losses, liabilities and regulatory action.

The handling, storage, transportation and distribution of chemical-based agri-input products involve inherent operational and safety risks, including the risk of accidents, leakage, spillage, contamination or improper disposal. Such incidents may occur at our facilities, third-party manufacturing locations, warehouses, during transportation or within the distribution network, and may result from human error, equipment failure, inadequate safety practices or external factors.

Any such incident could lead to loss of inventory, damage to property, environmental contamination, personal injury, regulatory scrutiny or claims from third parties. We may also be subject to penalties, remediation costs or legal liabilities arising from non-compliance with applicable environmental, health and safety regulations. Occurrence of such events could adversely affect our operations, financial condition, reputation and results of operations.

24. Our Company has not obtained trademark registrations for certain products used in its business. Any inability to protect such brands or prevent their unauthorized use by third parties may adversely affect our business, reputation and operations.

Our Company markets a diversified portfolio of many products across various categories including pesticides, fertilizers, micronutrients, NPK water-soluble fertilizers, plant growth regulators (bio-stimulants) and seeds. As on the date of this Draft Prospectus, our Company has obtained or applied for registration of few trademarks in relation to certain products and brands used in its business. Accordingly, a certain portion of our product portfolio is marketed without separate trademark registrations.

In the absence of trademark protection, we may be unable to prevent third parties from using identical or similar names, labels or marks in relation to similar products. Further, we may be unable to obtain registrations for certain trademarks or may be required to incur additional costs in protecting or enforcing our intellectual property rights. Any unauthorized use, infringement or imitation of our brands may result in loss of goodwill, customer confusion, dilution of brand value and diversion of business opportunities.

Further, there can be no assurance that our pending trademark applications will be granted or that third parties will not challenge our rights in respect of such trademarks. Any inability to adequately protect our brands and intellectual property rights may adversely affect our business, reputation, results of operations and financial condition.

For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Business – Intellectual Property” beginning on page 190 of this Draft Prospectus.

25. We are dependent on third-party transportation providers for the supply of raw materials and delivery of our finished products, and any disruption may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

Our success depends on the supply and transport of the finished products from our manufacturing facilities to our customers, which are subject to various uncertainties and risks. Uncertainties and risks such as transportation strikes, failure to book transport or delay in supply of goods to vehicle breakdown could have an adverse impact on our supplies and deliveries to and from our customers and suppliers. Additionally, raw materials and finished products may be lost or damaged in transit for various reasons including the occurrence of accidents or natural disasters. There may also be a delay in the delivery of raw materials and products which may also affect our business and the results of operations negatively.

In the event we fail to maintain a sufficient volume of raw materials and delivery of such materials to us is delayed, we may be unable to meet our purchase orders in a timely manner or at all, which may result in loss of sales opportunities that our competitors may capitalize on, thereby adversely affecting our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. Any compensation received from insurers or third-party transportation providers may be insufficient to cover the cost of any delays and will not repair damage to our relationship with our affected customers and distributors. We may also be affected by an increase in fuel costs, as it will have a corresponding impact on freight charges levied by our third-party transportation providers. This could require us to expend considerable resources in addressing our distribution requirements, including by way of absorbing these excess freight charges to maintain our selling price, which could adversely affect our results of operations, or passing these charges on to our customers, which could adversely affect demand for our products.

26. Our Company has availed unsecured loans, including from our Promoters, which are repayable on demand. Any recall of such loans may adversely affect our liquidity, cash flows and financial condition

Our Company has availed unsecured loans from certain lenders, including our Promoters, to support its working capital requirements and business operations. As on March 31, 2026, unsecured loans aggregating to ₹134.63 lakhs were outstanding. Such loans are generally repayable on demand and are not subject to any fixed repayment schedule. Accordingly, the respective lenders may demand repayment of such loans, together with any accrued interest, at any time.

While our Promoters have historically extended financial support to the Company, there can be no assurance that such support will continue in the future or that the outstanding unsecured loans will not be recalled at short notice. In the event that any of the lenders demand repayment of such loans, we may be required to arrange alternative sources of financing, which may not be available on commercially acceptable terms or at all. Further, any refinancing may result in higher borrowing costs and impose additional obligations on the Company.

Any inability to repay or refinance such unsecured loans in a timely manner may adversely affect our liquidity, cash flows, business operations and financial condition. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Statement of Financial Indebtedness” beginning on page 307 of this Draft Prospectus.

27. Our business depends significantly on our distribution network and sales personnel. Any inability to maintain or expand such network may adversely affect our business and growth prospects.

Our ability to market and distribute our products depends significantly on our network of distributors, dealers and sales personnel across various regions. The success of our business depends on our ability to maintain and expand such relationships and effectively manage our sales and distribution infrastructure.

Our customer base is relatively diversified. Our top ten customers accounted for approximately 20.69%, 15.98% and 9.42% of our Revenue from Operations during Financial Years 2025-26, 2024-25 and 2023-24, respectively, while our largest customer accounted for approximately 5.53%, 6.30% and 1.81% of our Revenue from Operations during the respective Financial Years. However, any significant reduction in orders from, or loss of business with, one or more of our significant customers, if not replaced by business from existing or new customers, may adversely affect our revenue and results of operations.

Any inability to retain existing distributors and dealers, appoint new channel partners, maintain relationships with sales personnel or effectively manage our distribution network may adversely affect our ability to market and sell our products. Further, increased competition, changes in customer preferences or disruptions in our distribution channels may result in reduced sales volumes and loss of market share.

Any failure to effectively manage and expand our distribution network may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and growth prospects.

28. Volatility in raw material and input prices may increase our costs and compress margins, adversely affecting our profitability.

Our business is dependent on the availability and pricing of various raw materials and active ingredients, including fertilizers, phosphates, petrochemical intermediates, and other commodity-based inputs, the prices of which are subject to significant volatility in global and domestic markets. Fluctuations in commodity prices, supply constraints, geopolitical developments, and changes in trade or regulatory policies may result in increases in procurement costs and uncertainty in supply.

An increase in raw material and input costs may lead to higher landed costs of our products. Our ability to pass on such cost increases to customers may be limited due to competitive market conditions, price sensitivity of end-users, and government intervention in pricing and subsidy mechanisms. In particular, changes in fertilizer subsidy policies and nutrient-based subsidy (“NBS”) rates may impact pricing dynamics for phosphatic and potassic products and affect downstream pricing flexibility, thereby exerting pressure on our margins.

Further, where we hold finished goods or raw material inventory procured at higher costs, any subsequent decline in market prices or delay in passing on cost increases may expose us to inventory valuation risks, increased working capital requirements, and potential margin erosion. Short lead times for price adjustments may also constrain our ability to manage cost pass-through effectively.

While we seek to mitigate these risks through diversified sourcing, selective forward procurement, product mix optimisation, and pricing strategies, there can be no assurance that such measures will adequately offset adverse movements in input prices. Sustained or significant volatility in raw material costs may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.

29. Our business is dependent on the continued services of our promoters, senior management, technical personnel and other key employees, and any inability to attract or retain such personnel may adversely affect our business and growth prospects.

Our success depends significantly on the experience, expertise and continued services of our promoters, senior management, technical personnel, sales personnel and other key employees. These personnel play an important role in strategic decision-making, regulatory compliance, operational management, product development, customer relationships and expansion of our business.

We do not maintain long-term employment arrangements with certain key personnel and may face competition in attracting and retaining qualified and skilled employees. Further, employee attrition may result in loss of operational knowledge, disruption in business activities, increased recruitment and training costs, reduced efficiency and delays in execution of business strategies.

Any loss of the services of our promoters, senior management or key employees, or our inability to attract, train and retain qualified personnel in a timely manner, could adversely affect our business operations, customer relationships, growth prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

30. We are subject to environmental, health and safety regulations, and any non-compliance could expose us to penalties, product recalls, operational disruptions and reputational damage.

Our business is subject to extensive regulation under various central and state laws governing agricultural inputs, including laws relating to product registration, manufacturing, storage, transportation, environmental compliance and safety standards. We are required to obtain and maintain multiple licenses, registrations and approvals in the ordinary course of business. Any delay, suspension, cancellation or non-renewal of such approvals, or any failure to comply with applicable regulatory requirements, may disrupt our operations, increase compliance costs and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

31. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate to protect us against certain operating risks, and this may have a material adverse effect on our business.

Our Company has obtained insurance coverage in respect of certain anticipated risks which are standard for our type of business and operations, viz. Burglary Standard Policy form New India Insurance and New India Bharat Flexi Sookshma Udyam Suraksha Policy. While we believe that we have obtained insurance coverage in adequate amounts consistent with size of our business, our insurance policy does not cover all risks. For further details of our insurance coverage, see “Our Business– Insurance” on page no. 188 of this Draft Prospectus.

We may be exposed to various risks which we may not be able to foresee or may not have adequate insurance coverage. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate to cover such loss or damage to life and property, and any consequential losses arising due to such events will affect our operations and financial condition. Further, in addition to the above, any fatal accident or incident causing damage or loss to life and property, even if we are fully insured or held not to be liable, could negatively affect our reputation, thereby making it more difficult for us to conduct our business operations effectively, and could significantly affect our business, availability of insurance coverage in the future and our results of operations.

While we believe that the insurance coverage that we maintain is in accordance with industry standards, there can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully, in part or on time, or that we have taken out sufficient insurance to cover all material losses. To the extent that we suffer loss or damage for which we did not obtain or maintain insurance, that is not covered by insurance or exceeds our insurance coverage, the loss would have to be borne by us and our cash flows, results of operations and financial performance could be adversely affected. In the event that our Company files a claim under the applicable insurance policy, there is no assurance that we will be able to recover all, or part of the losses incurred. However, we have not experienced any uninsured or underinsured loss events or rejected insurance claims in the past.

32. Increases in interest rates and any delay in servicing our borrowing obligations may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

A substantial portion of our borrowings carries interest at floating rates or at rates subject to periodic revisions. Accordingly, we are exposed to fluctuations in interest rates and any increase in interest rates may result in higher finance costs. Further, we may not be able to pass on such increased borrowing costs to our customers, which may adversely affect our profitability and results of operations.

Further, there have been 2 instances of delays in servicing loan instalments aggregating to ₹3.61 lakhs during the relevant financial periods. Such delays were temporary in nature and have subsequently been regularised and did not result in any adverse classification of our loan accounts by the respective lenders. However, there can be no assurance that similar delays will not occur in the future due to timing mismatches in cash flows, working capital constraints or other unforeseen circumstances.

Any increase in interest rates or delay in repayment of principal or interest obligations may adversely affect our relationship with lenders, result in increased borrowing costs, adversely impact our credit profile and restrict our ability to obtain additional financing on favourable terms. Consequently, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

For further details, please refer to the chapters titled “Financial Indebtedness” and “Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on pages 307 and 296, respectively, of this Draft Prospectus.

33. Certain Agreements /deeds and Licenses may be in the previous name of the Company

Some of our agreements and legal documents may still reflect Company’s former name, Jaikisan Agrotech India Private Limited. While we have initiated the necessary steps to update these records to reflect our current name, Jaikisan Agrotech India Limited, the process may take time, and in some cases, updates may not be completed as intended. Although this may not materially affect our day-to-day operations, there is a possibility that we may face regulatory queries or administrative delays in relation to such outdated records. We may also be required to invest additional time and resources to complete the rectification process. Any such delays or compliance issues could potentially impact on financial position and operating performance.

34. Our Company may face potential conflicts of interest with our Group Company and proprietary concerns of our Promoters, which are engaged in a similar line of business..

Certain of our Promoters have interests in entities operating in the agri-input industry, including our Group Company, Jaikisan Agrotech, and the proprietary concern of our Promoter, namely Kisan Agrochemicals, which are engaged in activities similar to those carried on by our Company. Accordingly, there may be potential conflicts of interest with respect to business opportunities, customers, suppliers, distribution channels and other commercial arrangements.

Further, our Promoters devote time and resources to such entities and may have interests that differ from those of our Company and its shareholders. There can be no assurance that such entities will not compete with our Company for customers, suppliers, distribution networks or business opportunities. Any competition from such entities or any conflict of interest involving our Promoters may adversely affect our market share, business, results of operations, financial condition and growth prospects.

For further details, please refer to the chapters titled “Our Promoters and Promoter Group”, “Group Companies” and “Related Party Transactions” beginning on pages 231, 345, and 56 respectively, of this Draft Prospectus.

35. None of our Independent Directors have experience of being a Director of a public limited company.

While our Independent Directors bring valuable expertise from various sectors, they do not have prior experience as board members of listed companies. Accordingly, they have limited exposure as regards managing the affairs of a listed company which inter-alia entails several compliance requirements and scrutiny of affairs by shareholders, regulators and the public at large that is associated with being a listed company.

As a listed company, our Company will be required to adhere to strict standards pertaining to accounting, corporate governance and reporting that it did not require as an unlisted company. Our Company will also be subject to the SEBI Listing Regulations, which will require it to file audited annual and unaudited half yearly reports with respect to its business and financial condition. If the Company experiences any delays, we may fail to satisfy the reporting obligations. Further, as a publicly listed company, our Company will need to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, including keeping adequate records of daily transactions. In order to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our Company’s disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, significant resources and management attention will be required. As a result, the Board of our Company may have to provide increased attention to such procedures and their attention may be diverted from our business concerns, which may adversely affect our business prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

36. Our operations could be adversely affected by strikes, work stoppages or increased wage demands by our employees or any other kind of disputes with our employees.

We believe our employees and personnel, including personnel at facilities, warehouses and field operations, are critical to maintain our competitive position. Our employees are not unionised. Although we have not experienced any material labour unrest in the past, we cannot assure you that we will not experience disruptions at work or our business operations due to disputes or other problems with our workforce, which may adversely affect our ability to continue our business operations. Any labour unrest directed at us in the future could directly or indirectly prevent or hinder our normal operating activities, and, if not resolved in a timely manner, could lead to disruptions in our operations. These actions are very difficult for us to predict or control, and any such event could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

37. Our business may be adversely affected by product concentration and dependence on certain key product categories.

A significant portion of our revenues is derived from specific product categories and formulations within our agri-input portfolio. Any reduction in demand for these products due to regulatory changes, adverse market perception, emergence of substitutes, changes in cropping patterns or farmer preferences may disproportionately affect our revenues and profitability.

Further, regulatory restrictions, non-renewal of registrations, supply constraints or adverse performance of any key product may not be immediately offset by other products in our portfolio. Our inability to diversify revenue streams or successfully scale alternative products in a timely manner could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

38. Information relating to our production capacities and the historical capacity utilization of our production facilities included in this Draft Prospectus is based on factual data and proposed capacity is based on certain assumptions and has been subjected to rounding off, and future production and capacity utilization may vary.

Information relating to our production capacities and the historical capacity utilization of our production facilities included in this Draft Prospectus is based on factual data of past years and proposed capacity utilization is based on various assumptions and estimates of our management, including proposed operations, assumptions relating to availability and quality of raw materials, assumptions relating to operational efficiencies, as well as assumptions in relation to the operational efficiencies, production mix and expected demand condition. Actual production levels and utilization rates may differ significantly from the estimated production capacities or capacity utilization information of our facilities. Undue reliance should therefore not be placed on our production capacity or estimated capacity utilization information for our existing facilities included in this Draft Prospectus. For further information, see the section titled “Our Business” on page no. 152 of this Draft Prospectus.

39. The Objects of the Issue for which funds are being raised are based on our management estimates and quotations from the third-party vendors the same have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. The deployment of funds in the project is entirely at our discretion, based on the parameters as mentioned in the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue”.

The fund requirement and deployment, as mentioned in the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page no. 81 of this Draft Prospectus is based on the estimates of our management and has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution or any other independent agency. These funds are based on our current business plan. We cannot assure that the current business plan will be implemented in its entirety, within the estimated timelines, or at all. Given the highly competitive and dynamic nature of our business, we may be required to revise our business plan from time to time, which may result in changes to the proposed fund requirements.

The allocation and deployment of the funds as stated on page no. 81 of this Draft Prospectus under chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” is at the discretion of our Board of Directors and is not subject to monitoring by any external independent agency. However, the Audit Committee of our Company will monitor the deployment of funds and ensure appropriate disclosures in accordance with applicable laws. Further, we cannot assure that the actual costs or schedule of implementation as stated on page no 81 of this Draft Prospectus under chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” will not vary from the estimated costs or schedule of implementation. Any such variance or delay may be on account of one or more factors, some of which may be beyond our control. The occurrence of any such event may delay our business plans and/or may have an adverse bearing on our expected revenues and earnings.

40. Any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Draft Prospectus shall be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior approval of the shareholders of our Company.

We propose to utilize the Net Proceeds towards utilization for the objects specified in the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” on page no. 81 of this Draft Prospectus. For further details of the proposed objects of the Issue, see chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page no. 81 of this Draft Prospectus. However, these objects of the issue have not been appraised by any bank, financial institution or other independent agency. Further, we cannot determine with any certainty if we would require the net Proceeds to meet any other expenditure or fund any exigencies arising out of the competitive environment, business conditions, economic conditions or other factors beyond our control. In accordance with the Companies Act, 2013, and the SEBI ICDR Regulations, we cannot undertake any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Draft Prospectus without obtaining the approval of shareholders of our Company through a special resolution. In the event of any such circumstances that require us to vary the disclosed utilization of the Net Proceeds, we may not be able to obtain the approval of the shareholders of our Company in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability in obtaining such approval of the shareholders of our Company may adversely affect our business or operations. Further, our Promoters would be required to provide an exit opportunity to the shareholders of our Company who do not agree with our proposal to modify the objects of the Issue, at a price and manner as prescribed by SEBI. Additionally, the requirement to provide an exit opportunity to such dissenting shareholders of our Company may deter our Promoters from agreeing to the variation of the proposed utilization of the Net Proceeds, even if such variation is in the interest of our Company. Further, we cannot assure you that the Promoter will have adequate resources at their disposal at all times to enable them to provide an exit opportunity. In light of these factors, we may not be able to vary the objects of the issue to use any unutilized proceeds of the issue, if any, even if such variation is in the interest of our Company. This may restrict our Company’s ability to respond to any change in our business or financial condition, if any, which may adversely affect our business and the results of operations.

41. Any failure to maintain consistent product quality, efficacy and prescribed standards may result in customer complaints, product recalls, regulatory action and reputational harm.

Our products are required to meet prescribed quality standards, specifications and regulatory requirements under applicable laws governing fertilizers, pesticides, micronutrients, plant growth regulators and other agri-input products. Our business depends significantly on the consistent quality, efficacy and field performance of our products, as farmer purchasing decisions and repeat sales are influenced by product outcomes and customer experience.

Any lapse in quality control systems, manufacturing processes, storage conditions, handling practices, formulation consistency or contamination may result in products failing to meet prescribed standards or expected performance levels. In addition, product degradation arising from improper storage, transportation or handling within the distribution network may adversely affect product efficacy and customer satisfaction.

Any actual or perceived quality defects, formulation errors, contamination, adverse field performance or lack of efficacy may lead to customer complaints, product returns, recalls, loss of customer confidence, reputational harm, adverse publicity or disruption in dealer and distributor relationships. Further, such incidents may attract increased scrutiny from regulatory authorities and could result in penalties, suspension or cancellation of product registrations or licenses, legal claims or other regulatory actions against us.

Although we undertake quality assurance procedures and monitoring mechanisms, there can be no assurance that quality-related issues or adverse product performance incidents will not arise in the future. Any such occurrence could materially and adversely affect our brand reputation, business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

42. Certain key performance indicators of listed industry peers included in this Draft Prospectus are based on the publicly available information and may not be strictly comparable.

In compliance with the SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2018, we have included certain key performance indicators, comprising financial and operational data, for selected listed industry peers in the chapter titled “Basis for Issue Price” beginning on page no. 109 of this Draft Prospectus. The information relating to such listed industry peers has been sourced from publicly available documents, including audited financial statements, annual reports and disclosures filed with stock exchanges, as available on the websites of the respective stock exchanges.

While due care has been taken in compiling such information from the aforesaid sources, differences in accounting policies, business models, operational scale, period of reporting and methods used for computation of financial ratios may result in such information not being directly comparable with that of our Company. Investors are advised to consider this information accordingly and should not place undue reliance on such comparative data while making an investment decision.

43. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements and restrictive covenants in our financing arrangements.

We may retain all our future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of our business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on factors that our Board of Directors deem relevant, including among others, our results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. Accordingly, realization of a gain on shareholders’ investments may largely depend upon the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value. For details of our dividend history, see chapter titled “Dividend Policy” beginning on page no. 237 of this Draft Prospectus.

44. Our Promoters have provided personal guarantees for financing facilities availed by our Company and may in the future provide additional guarantees. Any failure or default by our Company to repay such facilities could trigger repayment obligations on them, which may impact their ability to effectively service their obligations as our Promoters and thereby, adversely impact our business and operations.

Our Promoters have personally guaranteed an amount of ₹ 1,556.10 Lakhs for the repayment of certain loan facilities taken by us for period ending June 30, 2026. Our Promoters may continue to provide such guarantees and other security post listing. In case of a default under our loan agreements, any of the guarantees provided by our Promoters may be invoked, which could negatively impact on the reputation and net worth of our Promoters. In addition, our guarantors may be required to liquidate their shareholding in our Company to settle the claims of the lenders, thereby diluting their shareholding in our Company. Furthermore, in the event that our Promoters withdraw or terminate their guarantees, our lenders for such facilities may ask for alternate guarantees, repayment of amounts outstanding under such facilities, or even terminate such facilities. We may not be successful in procuring guarantees satisfactory to the lenders, and as a result may need to repay outstanding amounts under such facilities or seek additional sources of capital, which could affect our financial condition and cash flows.

45. Inadequate internal control systems may expose us to operational, financial and compliance risks

As a growing organization, our business requires robust internal control systems, processes and compliance mechanisms to ensure accurate financial reporting, asset safeguarding and adherence to applicable laws. Any inadequacy or failure in internal controls may result in operational inefficiencies, errors in financial statements, fraud, misappropriation of assets or regulatory non-compliance.

If we fail to design, implement or effectively monitor internal controls commensurate with the scale of our operations, it could adversely affect our financial condition, credibility with stakeholders and compliance standing, and may result in penalties or adverse regulatory action.

46. We have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the Issue Proceeds may delay the implementation schedule.

The proposed fund requirement mentioned in the section titled “Objects of the Issue” is to be funded from the proceeds of this Issue. We have not identified any alternative sources of funding. Therefore, any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the Issue Proceeds may delay our implementation schedule. As a result, we cannot assure that we will be able to execute our future plans and strategies within the specified timeframe. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” starting on page no. 81 of this Draft Prospectus.

47. *Industry information included in this Draft Prospectus has been derived from Infomerics Analytics and Research Private Limited, which we commissioned and purchased. 48. We will continue to be controlled by our Promoters after completion of the Issue, which will allow them to influence the outcome of matters submitted for approval of our Shareholders.

As on the date of this Draft Prospectus, our Promoters hold 90.25% of the pre-Issue paid-up share capital of our Company. Consequently, they will continue to exercise significant control over us after the Issue and will have the ability to influence matters requiring Shareholders’ approval, including the ability to appoint Directors to our Board, the approval of significant actions at Board and at Shareholders’ meetings, such as issue of Equity Shares and dividend payments, business plans, mergers and acquisitions, any consolidation or joint venture arrangements, any amendment to our Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association, and any other business decisions. We cannot assure you that our Promoters will not have conflicts of interest with other shareholders or with our Company. Any such conflict may adversely affect our ability to execute our business strategy or to operate our business. EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

49. Investor may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares held as investments in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Any capital gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a Stock Exchange held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to long term capital gains in India at the specified rates depending on certain factors, such as whether the sale is undertaken on or off the Stock Exchanges, the quantum of gains and any available treaty relief.

Accordingly, Investors may be subject to payment of long-term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of Securities Transaction Tax (“STT”), on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Further, any capital gains realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India as well as STT. No dividend distribution tax is required to be paid in respect of dividends declared, distributed or paid by a domestic company after March 31, 2020, and accordingly, such dividends would not be exempt in the hands of the Shareholders, both resident as well as non-resident.

50. Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

We are dependent on domestic, regional and global economic and market conditions. Our performance, growth and market price of our Equity Shares are and will be dependent to a large extent on the health of the economy in which we operate. There have been periods of slowdown in the economic growth of India. Demand for our services may be adversely affected by an economic downturn in domestic, regional and global economies. The Government of India has traditionally exercised and continues to exercise influence over many aspects of the economy. Our business and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares may be affected by interest rates, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. The rate of economic liberalization could change, and specific laws and policies affecting the information technology sector, foreign investment and other matters affecting investment in our securities could change as well. Any significant change in such liberalization and deregulation policies could adversely affect business and economic conditions in India, generally, and our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations, in particular.

The Government of India has traditionally exercised, and continues to exercise, a significant influence over many aspects of the economy. Our business, and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares, may be affected by interest rates, changes in government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. Any political instability in India may adversely affect the Indian securities markets in general, which could also adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Any political instability could delay the reform of the Indian economy and could have a material adverse effect on the market for our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance to the investors that these liberalization policies will continue under the newly elected government. Protests against privatization could slow down the pace of liberalization and deregulation. The rate of economic liberalization could change, and specific laws and policies affecting companies in the industrial equipment manufacturing sectors, foreign investment, currency exchange rates and other matters affecting investment in our securities could change as well. A significant change in India’s economic liberalization and deregulation policies could disrupt business and economic conditions in India and thereby affect our business.

51. An outbreak of other infectious or virulent diseases, if uncontrolled, may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

An outbreak of other infectious or virulent diseases, such as severe acute respiratory syndrome, the COVID-19 virus, the H1N1 virus, avian influenza (bird flu), the Zika virus or the Ebola virus, if uncontrolled, may have a material adverse effect on the economies of certain countries and our operations. If any of our employees or the employees of our suppliers and/or customers are infected with such diseases or if a significant portion of our workforce refuses to work for fear of contracting an infectious disease, our Company, our suppliers and/or our customers may be required to shut down operations for a period of time, and this could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, our revenue and profitability could be impacted to the extent that a natural disaster, health epidemic or other outbreak harms the Indian and global economy in general.

52. Terrorist attacks or war or conflicts involving India or other countries could adversely affect consumer and business sentiment and the financial markets and adversely affect our business.

Terrorist attacks and other acts of violence or war may adversely affect global equity markets and economic growth as well as the Indian economy and stock markets. Such acts negatively impact business and economic sentiment, which could adversely affect our business and profitability. Also, India has from time to time experienced, and continues to experience, social and civil unrest and hostilities with neighboring countries. Armed conflicts could disrupt communications and adversely affect the Indian economy. Such events could also create a perception that investments in Indian companies involve a high degree of risk. This, in turn, could have a material adverse effect on the market for securities of Indian companies, including our Equity Shares. The consequences of any armed conflicts are unpredictable and we therefore may not be able to foresee events that could have an adverse effect on our business.

53. Global economic, political and social conditions may harm our ability to do business, increase our costs and negatively affect our stock prices.

Global economic and political factors that are beyond our control influence forecasts directly affect performance. These factors include interest rates, rates of economic growth, fiscal and monetary policies of governments, inflation, deflation, foreign exchange fluctuations, consumer credit availability, fluctuations in commodities markets, consumer debt levels, unemployment trends and other matters that influence consumer confidence, spending and tourism. Increasing volatility in financial markets may cause these factors to change with a greater degree of frequency and magnitude, which may negatively affect our stock prices.

54. The extent and reliability of Indian infrastructure could adversely affect our Company's results of operations and financial condition.

India's physical infrastructure is in developing phase compared to that of many developed nations. Any congestion or disruption in its port, rail and road networks, electricity grid, communication systems or any other public facility could disrupt our Company's normal business activity. Any deterioration of India's physical infrastructure would harm the national economy, disrupt the transportation of goods and supplies, and add costs to doing business in India. These problems could interrupt our Company's business operations, which could have an adverse effect on its results of operations and financial condition.

55. Any downgrading of India's sovereign rating by an independent agency may harm our ability to raise financing.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing may be available. This could have an adverse effect on our business and future financial performance, our ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the trading price of our Equity Shares.

56. Instability in financial markets could materially and adversely affect the results of operations and financial conditions.

The Indian economy and financial markets are significantly influenced by worldwide economic, financial and market conditions. Any financial turmoil, especially in the United States of America or Europe, may have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Although economic conditions differ in each country, investors' reactions to any significant developments in one country can have adverse effects on the financial and market conditions in other countries. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems, particularly in other emerging markets, may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets. The global financial turmoil, an outcome of the sub-prime mortgage crisis which originated in the United States of America, led to a loss of investor confidence in worldwide financial markets. Indian financial markets have also experienced the contagion effect of the global financial turmoil, evident from the sharp decline in SENSEX, BSE's benchmark index. Any prolonged financial crisis may have an adverse impact on the Indian economy and us, thereby resulting in a material and adverse effect on our business, operations, financial condition, profitability and price of our Equity Shares.

57. Natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy and cause our Company's business to suffer.

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, tsunamis, floods etc. In recent years, the extent and severity of these natural disasters determine their impact on the Indian economy. Prolonged spells of abnormal rainfall or other natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy, which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations as well as the price of the Equity Shares.

58. Government regulation of foreign ownership of Indian securities may have an adverse effect on the price of the Equity Shares.

Foreign ownership of Indian securities is subject to government regulation. Under foreign exchange regulations currently in effect in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required.

Additionally, Shareholders who seek to convert the rupees proceeds from the sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection/ tax clearance certificate from the Income Tax authorities. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained.

59. A slowdown in economic growth in India may adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and prospects.

The performance and growth of our business are necessarily dependent on economic conditions prevalent in India, which may be materially and adversely affected by centre or state political instability or regional conflicts, a general rise in interest rates, inflation, and economic slowdown elsewhere in the world or otherwise. There have been periods of slowdown in the economic growth of India. India's economic growth is affected by various factors including domestic consumption and savings, balance of trade movements, namely export demand and movements in key imports (oil and oil products), global economic uncertainty and liquidity crisis, volatility in exchange currency rates and annual rainfall which affects agricultural production. Any continued or future slowdown in the Indian economy or a further increase in inflation could have a material adverse effect on the price of our raw materials and demand for our products and, as a result, on our business and financial results. The Indian financial market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly in emerging market in Asian countries. Financial turmoil in Asia, Europe, the U.S. and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investor's reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability, including the financial crisis and fluctuations in the stock markets in China and further deterioration of credit conditions in the U.S. or European markets, could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Financial disruptions may occur again and could harm our business and financial results.

60. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties in India, including adverse application of tax laws and regulations, may adversely affect our business and financial performance.

Our business and financial performance could be adversely affected by changes in law or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new, laws, rules and regulations in India applicable to us and our business. For further details please refer to the chapter "Key Industry Regulations and Policies" on page no. 197 of this Draft Prospectus for details of the laws currently applicable to us. The governmental and regulatory bodies in India and other jurisdictions where we operate may notify new regulations and/ or policies, which may require us to obtain approvals and licenses from the government and other regulatory bodies, or impose onerous requirements and conditions on our operations, in addition to those which we are undertaking currently. Any such changes and the related uncertainties with respect to the implementation of new regulations may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

In addition, unfavorable changes in our interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment laws governing our business, operations and investments in our Company by non-residents, could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and/or may require us to apply for additional approvals. Tax and other levies imposed by the central and state governments in India that affect our tax liability include central and state taxes and other levies, income tax, turnover tax, goods and services tax, stamp duty and other special taxes and surcharges which are introduced on a temporary or permanent basis from time to time. The final determination of our tax liabilities involves the interpretation of local tax laws and related regulations in each jurisdiction as well as the significant use of estimates and assumptions regarding the scope of future operations and results achieved, and the timing and nature of income earned and expenditures incurred. We are involved in various disputes with tax authorities. For details of these disputes, see "Outstanding Litigations and Material Developments" on page no. 309 of this Draft Prospectus. Moreover, the central and state tax scheme in India is extensive and subject to change from time to time.

61. The Equity Shares have never been publicly traded, and the Issue may not result in an active or liquid market for the Equity Shares. Further, the price of the Equity Shares may be volatile, and you may be unable to resell the Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

Prior to the issue, there has been no public market for the Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the Indian Stock Exchanges may not develop or be sustained after the Issue. Listing and quotation do not guarantee that a market for the Equity Shares will develop, or if developed, there will be liquidity of such market for the equity Shares. The Issue Price of the equity Shares may bear no relationship to the market price of the equity Shares after the Issue. The market price of the Equity Shares after the Issue can be volatile as a result of several factors beyond our control, including volatility in the Indian and global securities markets, our results of operations, the performance of our competitors, developments in the Indian and global machine tools industry, changing perceptions in the market about investments in this sector in India, investor perceptions of our future performance, adverse media reports about us or our sector, changes in the estimates of our performance or recommendations by financial analysts, significant developments in India's economic liberalisation and deregulation policies, and significant developments in India's fiscal regulations. In addition, the Stock Exchanges may experience significant price and volume fluctuations, which may have a material adverse effect on the market price of the Equity Shares. General or industry-specific market conditions or stock performance or domestic or international macroeconomic and geopolitical factors unrelated to our performance may also affect the price of the Equity Shares. In particular, the stock market as a whole in the past has experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations that have affected the market price of many companies in ways that may have been unrelated to the companies' operating performances. For these reasons, investors should not rely on recent trends to predict future share prices, results of operations or cash flow and financial condition.

62. The requirements of being a publicly listed company may strain our resources.

We are not a publicly listed company and have not, historically, been subjected to the increased scrutiny of our affairs by Shareholders, regulators and the public at large that is associated with being a listed company. As a listed company, we will incur significant legal, accounting, corporate governance and other expenses that we did not incur as an unlisted company. We will be subject to the SEBI Listing Regulations, which will require us to file audited annual and unaudited quarterly reports with respect to our business and financial condition. If we experience any delays, we may fail to satisfy our reporting obligations and, or, we may not be able to readily determine and accordingly report any changes in our results of operations as promptly as other listed companies. Further, as a publicly listed company, we will need to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, including keeping adequate records of daily transactions. In order to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, significant resources and management attention will be required. As a result, our management's attention may be diverted from our business concerns, which may adversely affect our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

Any further issuance of Equity Shares, or convertible securities or other equity-linked instruments by us may dilute your shareholding. We may be required to finance our growth through future equity offerings. Any future equity issuances by us, including a primary offering of Equity Shares, convertible securities or securities linked to Equity Shares including through exercise of employee stock options, may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in our Company. Any future equity issuances by us or sales of our Equity Shares by the Promoters may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of our Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of our Equity Shares. We cannot assure you that we will not issue Equity Shares, convertible securities or securities linked to Equity Shares or that our Shareholders will not dispose of, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares in the future.

63. The sale of Equity Shares by our Promoters in future may adversely affect the market price of the equity Shares.

After the completion of the Issue, our Promoters will still own a significant percentage of our issued Equity Shares. The sale of a large number of the Equity Shares by our Promoters could adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares. Similarly, the perception that any such primary or secondary sale may occur could adversely affect the market price of the equity Shares. No assurance may be given that our Promoters will not dispose of, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares in the future.

64. Pursuant to listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures such as the Additional Surveillance Measures ("ASM") and Graded Surveillance Measures ("GSM") by the Stock Exchanges in the order to enhance market integrity and safeguard the interest of the investors

On and post the listing of equity shares, we may be subject to ASM and GSM by the Stock Exchange(s) and the Securities and Exchange Board of India. These measures have been introduced in order to enhance market integrity, safeguard the interest of investors and to alert and advise investors to be extra cautious and carry out necessary due diligence while dealing in such securities. The criteria for shortlisting any scrip trading on the Stock Exchange(s) under the ASM is based on an objective criteria as jointly decided by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges(s) which includes market based dynamic parameters such as high low price variation, client concentration, close to close price variation, market capitalization, average daily trading volume and its change, and average delivery percentage, among others. A scrip is typically subjected to GSM measures where there is an abnormal price rise that is not commensurate with the financial health and fundamentals of a company. Specific parameters for GSM include net worth, net fixed assets, price to earnings ratio, market capitalisation, and price to book value, among others. Factors within and beyond our control may lead to our securities being subject to GSM or ASM. In the event our Equity Shares are subject to such surveillance measures implemented by any of the Stock Exchanges, we may be subject to certain additional restrictions in connection with trading of our Equity Shares such as limiting trading frequency (for example, trading either allowed once in a week or a month) or freezing of price on upper side of trading which may have an adverse effect on the market price of our Equity Shares or may in general cause disruptions in the development of an active trading market for our Equity Shares.

65. Investors will not be able to sell immediately on a Stock Exchange any of the Equity Shares they purchase in the Issue.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to applicable Indian laws, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading in the Equity Shares may commence. The Allotment of Equity Shares in this Issue and the credit of such Equity Shares to the applicant's demat account with depository participant and listing is expected to commence within the period as may be prescribed under the applicable laws. Any failure or delay in obtaining approval or otherwise any delay in commencing trading in Equity Shares would restrict investors' ability to dispose their Equity Shares. We cannot assure that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods prescribed under applicable law.

66. There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will be listed on the Designated Stock Exchange in a timely manner or at all.

There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will be listed on the Designated Stock Exchange in a timely manner or at all. In accordance with Indian law, permission for listing and trading of our Equity Shares will not be granted until after certain actions have been completed in relation to this Issue and until Allotment of Equity Shares pursuant to this Issue. In accordance with current regulations and circulars issued by SEBI, our Equity Shares are required to be listed on the relevant stock exchange within such time as mandated under UPI Circulars, subject to any change in the prescribed timeline in this regard. However, we cannot assure you that the trading in our Equity Shares will commence in a timely manner or at all. Any failure or delay in obtaining final listing and trading approvals may restrict your ability to dispose of your Equity Shares.

In case of a shortfall in raising requisite capital from the net Proceeds towards meeting the objects of the Issue, we may explore a range of options including utilizing our internal accruals and seeking additional debt from existing and future lenders. We believe that such alternate arrangements would be available to fund any such shortfalls. Subject to applicable law, if the actual utilization towards any of the Objects, including utilization towards Issue related expenses, is lower than the proposed deployment, such balance will be used for towards the Objects set out herein above, including general corporate purposes to the extent that the total amount to be utilized towards general corporate purposes will not exceed 15% of the Gross Proceeds or ₹ 1000 Lakhs, whichever is less, from the Fresh Issue in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations.

DETAILS OF THE OBJECTS OF THE FRESH ISSUE

1. Funding capital expenditure towards installation of new Plant & Machineries and Civil Construction work for setting up of New Manufacturing Facility.

Our Board of Directors, pursuant to a resolution passed at its meeting held on August 28, 2026, has approved the utilization of an amount aggregating to ₹ 1370.00 Lakhs from the Net Proceeds towards funding capital expenditure towards installation of new Plant & Machineries and Civil Construction work for setting up of New Manufacturing Facility for NPK water-soluble fertilizers.

Our Company proposes to establish a new manufacturing facility at Chhatrapati Sambhajnagar (Aurangabad), Maharashtra with an installed production capacity of approximately 10 metric tons per day (“MTPD”) for manufacturing NPK water-soluble fertilizers. The proposed facility will include installation of plant and machinery, utilities, effluent treatment systems, laboratory facilities, storage infrastructure, electrical installations, administrative infrastructure and other ancillary facilities required for manufacturing operations. The proposed manufacturing facility is expected to enhance our operational capabilities, improve production efficiencies, reduce dependency on third-party manufacturers and strengthen our presence in the NPK water-soluble fertilizer segment.

Pursuant to commencement of operations at the proposed manufacturing facility, our Company proposes to manufacture and market NPK Water-Soluble Fertilizers under its own brand name. The proposed product portfolio includes:

1. JAIKISAN NPK 00:00:50;
2. JAIKISAN NPK 13:00:45;
3. JAIKISAN NPK 13:40:13;
4. JAIKISAN NPK 19:19:19;
5. JAIKISAN NPK 00:52:34;
6. JAIKISAN NPK 12:61:00.

Currently, our Company procures certain technical nutrient formulations from third-party manufacturers and undertakes formulation, blending, packaging and marketing of NPK water-soluble fertilizers. The proposed facility is intended to facilitate backward integration by enabling in-house manufacture of such formulations, thereby providing greater control over product quality, pricing, supply chain management and branding. Further, the proposed expansion is expected to support growth in our operations by enabling product diversification, improving margins, enhancing market penetration and strengthening relationships with distributors and end customers.

The proposed manufacturing facility will be situated at our Plot No. C-9/2, MIDC Shendra Five Star Industrial Area, Chhatrapati Sambhajnagar (Aurangabad), Maharashtra admeasuring approximately 3,975 square meters and is located adjacent to our existing manufacturing facility. Our Company has acquired rights in respect of the said land pursuant to an agreement dated May 13, 2026, and has received the necessary consent for transfer from Maharashtra Industrial Development Corporation (“MIDC”) dated May 07, 2026. The proximity of the proposed facility to our existing operations is expected to facilitate operational coordination, efficient utilization of infrastructure and administrative resources and ease of management of manufacturing activities.

Key Advantages of the Proposed Manufacturing Facility

Particulars	Existing Position	Proposed Position / Expected Benefit
Manufacturing Model	NPK water-soluble fertilizers are presently formulated using specialized nutrient and chemical inputs procured from third-party manufacturers.	Manufacture of certain key technical nutrient formulations in-house through the proposed manufacturing facility, resulting in backward integration.
Backward Integration	Dependence on external manufacturers for key formulation inputs.	Reduced dependence on third-party suppliers for critical formulation inputs and improved control over the manufacturing value chain.
Manufacturing Capacity	No dedicated in-house facility for manufacturing technical nutrient formulations.	Proposed installation of a new manufacturing facility with an installed capacity of approximately 10 MTPD .

Quality Control	Quality of procured formulation inputs is dependent on third-party manufacturers.	Enhanced control over manufacturing processes, quality testing, product consistency and formulation standards through in-house production.
Supply Chain Management	Procurement schedules are dependent on external manufacturers and their production timelines.	Improved production planning, inventory management and availability of critical formulation inputs.
Operational Efficiency	Separate procurement and coordination with third-party manufacturers for formulation inputs.	Integrated manufacturing operations expected to improve coordination between production, quality control and dispatch functions.
Product Availability	Availability of certain products is dependent on timely supply from third-party manufacturers.	Better control over production scheduling and timely availability of products for the Company's dealer network.
Cost Management	Manufacturing costs are influenced by third-party processing and procurement arrangements.	Backward integration is expected to provide greater control over manufacturing costs and improve operational efficiencies, subject to raw material prices, capacity utilisation and market conditions.
Future Growth	Growth in production depends partly on third-party manufacturing capacity.	Dedicated manufacturing infrastructure expected to support future expansion, higher production volumes and increased market penetration.

Rationale and Strategic Benefits of the Proposed Manufacturing Facility

Our proposed manufacturing facility represents a strategic backward integration initiative in respect of our NPK water-soluble fertilizer business. NPK water-soluble fertilizers have consistently formed an important part of our product portfolio, contributing revenues of ₹1,774.98 lakhs, ₹1,846.91 lakhs and ₹1,708.33 lakhs during the financial years ended March 31, 2024, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2026, respectively.

At present, our Company manufactures and markets NPK water-soluble fertilizers by blending and formulating various specialized technical-grade nutrient and chemical inputs procured from third-party manufacturers. These technical inputs constitute the principal components used in the formulation of our finished NPK water-soluble fertilizer products. The proposed manufacturing facility is intended to enable our Company to manufacture these intermediate technical formulations in-house, thereby reducing dependence on external suppliers for such inputs and strengthening our manufacturing capabilities through backward integration.

The proposed backward integration is expected to provide several operational and strategic benefits, including:

- Reduced dependence on third-party manufacturers for key technical inputs used in the formulation of NPK water-soluble fertilizers.
- Greater control over product quality and consistency, as the Company will oversee the manufacturing process from the intermediate formulation stage through to the finished product.
- Improved supply chain reliability, by reducing dependence on external manufacturers and minimizing potential disruptions in the procurement of critical technical inputs.
- Enhanced production planning and inventory management, enabling better synchronization between the manufacture of intermediate formulations and finished products.
- Potential improvement in operating efficiencies and manufacturing margins through internal production of key inputs, subject to capacity utilisation, raw material prices and prevailing market conditions.
- Strengthened research and product development capabilities, allowing the Company greater flexibility in developing product formulations based on agronomic requirements and customer demand.
- Support for future business expansion, enabling the Company to increase production volumes and strengthen its presence in the NPK water-soluble fertilizer market.

The proposed facility, with an installed capacity of approximately 10 metric tons per day (MTPD), is expected to enhance the Company's manufacturing capabilities, strengthen its integrated production model and support its long-term growth strategy in the agri-input industry.

Rationale for Increase and Incremental Working Capital Requirements

Our existing business is working capital intensive due to the seasonal nature of demand for agri-input products, the requirement to maintain adequate inventory levels and the credit terms extended to our dealer and distribution network.

Our Company proposes to expand its existing business operations by strengthening its dealer network, increasing its geographical presence, improving product availability and increasing sales across its existing product portfolio. The Company presently markets its products through a distribution network of more than 2,700 dealers across Maharashtra and other states. The proposed expansion of the existing dealer and distribution network is expected to result in an increase in sales volumes and a corresponding increase in trade receivables due to the credit terms extended to dealers in the ordinary course of business.

The Company also expects an increase in procurement of raw materials, packing materials, traded goods and other operating inputs to support the projected growth in its existing manufacturing, processing, formulation, blending, packaging and trading operations. Further, considering the seasonal demand for agricultural inputs, the Company is required to maintain adequate inventory levels to ensure timely availability of products during peak agricultural seasons and to minimise the impact of supply-chain disruptions.

Accordingly, the proposed utilisation of ₹1,050.00 lakhs from the Net Proceeds towards incremental working capital requirements will be restricted to the Company’s existing business operations and will enable the Company to finance increased inventory and receivable levels, support higher sales volumes and meet its day-to-day operating requirements. The working capital requirements of the proposed new manufacturing facility do not form part of the ₹1,050.00 lakhs proposed to be funded from the Net Proceeds under this Object.

Expected working capital requirements:

1. Global Economic Outlook

As per the IMF’s World Economic Outlook (WEO) published in April 2026, global growth is projected to remain resilient at 3.1 percent in 2026 and at 3.2 percent in 2027. After withstanding higher trade barriers and elevated uncertainty last year, global activity now faces a major test from the outbreak of war in the Middle East. Assuming that the conflict remains limited in duration and scope, the outlook reflects the impact of heightened geopolitical tensions, trade disruptions and cautious investment sentiment, which are expected to weigh on global economic momentum.

Global headline inflation is projected to rise modestly in 2026 before resuming its decline in 2027. Slowdown in growth and increase in inflation are expected to be particularly pronounced in emerging market and developing economies. This is driven by elevated geopolitical tensions, commodity price volatility, external financing pressures and spillover effects from trade and policy uncertainty. Downside risks dominate the outlook, as a longer or broader conflict, worsening geopolitical fragmentation, renewed trade tensions, or a reassessment of expectations surrounding artificial-intelligence-driven productivity could significantly weaken growth and destabilize financial markets. Elevated public debt and eroding institutional credibility further heighten vulnerabilities, while faster-than-anticipated productivity gains from AI or sustained easing in trade tensions could provide upside support. Fostering adaptability, maintaining credible policy frameworks and reinforcing international cooperation remain essential to navigating current shocks and future disruptions.

Note: Advanced Economies and Emerging & Developing Economies are as per the classification of the World Economic Outlook (WEO). This classification is not based on strict criteria, economic or otherwise, and it has evolved over time. It comprises of 40 countries under the Advanced Economies including the G7 (the United States, Japan, Germany, France, Italy, the United Kingdom, and Canada) and selected countries from the Euro Zone (Germany, Italy, France etc.). The group of emerging market and developing economies (156) includes all those that are not classified as Advanced Economies (India, China, Brazil, Malaysia etc.)

Growth across the global economy is projected to remain resilient, though moderate over the forecast period. Global GDP growth declined from 3.5 percent in 2023 to 3.3 percent in 2024, before increasing marginally to 3.4 percent in 2025. However, growth is projected to moderate to 3.1 percent in 2026 before recovering slightly to 3.2 percent in 2027, reflecting the impact of geopolitical uncertainty, trade disruptions and cautious investment sentiment.

Growth in Advanced Economies is expected to remain relatively subdued, increasing from 1.7 percent in 2023 to 1.8 percent in 2024 and 1.9 percent in 2025, before moderating to 1.8 percent in 2026 and 1.7 percent in 2027. This reflects persistent structural constraints, tighter financial conditions and slower demand conditions across developed markets.

Emerging and Developing Economies are expected to continue to outperform advanced economies and remain the key drivers of global growth. Growth declined from 4.7 percent in 2023 to 4.3 percent in 2024, before improving to 4.4 percent in 2025. However, it is projected to moderate to 3.9 percent in 2026 and recover to 4.2 percent in 2027, reflecting short-term pressures arising from geopolitical risks, commodity price volatility and external financing constraints, followed by a gradual improvement in macroeconomic conditions.

1.1 GDP Growth Across Major Regions

GDP growth across major global regions—including Europe, Latin America & the Caribbean, Middle East & Central Asia, and Sub-Saharan Africa—continues to display varied trajectories. The global outlook presents a mixed scenario, with emerging economies continuing to outperform advanced economies.

Note: F = Forecast

Source: IMF World Economic Outlook April 2026 update

Growth across Emerging Market and Developing Economies is projected to moderate from 4.4 percent in 2025 to 3.9 percent in 2026, before recovering to 4.2 percent in 2027, reflecting near-term pressures from global uncertainty, geopolitical risks and tighter financial conditions, followed by a gradual rebound.

Within this, Emerging and Developing Asia is expected to remain the fastest-growing region, although growth is projected to ease from 5.5 percent in 2025 to 4.9 percent in 2026 and 4.8 percent in 2027, reflecting moderation in regional momentum. China's growth is projected to decelerate from 5.0 percent to 4.4 percent and further to 4.0 percent over the period, driven by structural headwinds and softer domestic demand, while India is expected to remain resilient, with growth moderating from 7.6 percent in 2025 to 6.5 percent in 2026 and remaining at that level in 2027, supported by domestic demand and investment activity.

Emerging and Developing Europe is projected to remain relatively stable, with growth at 2.0 percent in 2025 and 2026, improving marginally to 2.1 percent in 2027. Russia is also expected to record modest growth, rising from 1.0 percent in 2025 to 1.1 percent in both 2026 and 2027.

Latin America and the Caribbean is projected to witness moderate growth, easing slightly from 2.4 percent in 2025 to 2.3 percent in 2026, before recovering to 2.7 percent in 2027. Within the region, Brazil's growth is expected to soften from 2.3 percent to 1.9 percent in 2026 before improving to 2.0 percent in 2027, while Mexico is projected to show a stronger rebound, increasing from 0.6 percent in 2025 to 1.6 percent in 2026 and 2.2 percent in 2027.

Growth in the Middle East and Central Asia is projected to slow sharply from 3.6 percent in 2025 to 1.9 percent in 2026, before rebounding significantly to 4.6 percent in 2027, indicating volatility linked to geopolitical conditions and oil market dynamics. Saudi Arabia mirrors this trend, with growth moderating from 4.5 percent in 2025 to 3.1 percent in 2026 before recovering to 4.5 percent in 2027.

Sub-Saharan Africa is expected to remain relatively stable, with growth moderating slightly from 4.5 percent in 2025 to 4.3 percent in 2026 and recovering marginally to 4.4 percent in 2027. Nigeria is projected to improve gradually from 4.0 percent to 4.3 percent over the period, while South Africa is expected to post subdued growth, easing from 1.1 percent in 2025 to 1.0 percent in 2026 before improving to 1.3 percent in 2027. Overall, the projections indicate that while emerging markets face short-term pressures, growth recovery is expected to strengthen in several regions by 2027.

Overall, the outlook indicates that while global growth is expected to soften in the near term, resilience in emerging markets and a gradual recovery thereafter are expected to support global economic momentum over the medium term.

2.4 Overview on Key Demographic Parameters

2.4.1 Population growth

India’s economic trajectory and consumption dynamics are closely tied to its demographic shifts. India’s population expanded from approximately 0.75 billion in 1984 to 1.45 billion in 2024 and is further reached around 1.47 billion in 2025, consolidating its position as the world’s most populous nation. This sustained growth underlines the emergence of a vast labour force and consumer base, which is essential for driving long-term economic growth, supporting rising consumption demand, and strengthening the country’s overall economic potential.

Source: World Bank Database. Population Data 2025 - Worldometer, Infomerics Analytics & Research

2.4.2 Labour Force in India

India's labour force has experienced steady growth over the past decade. In 2010, the total labour force was approximately 467.56 million. By 2025, this number had increased to 617.63 million.

This upward trend underscores the expanding working-age population, improving labour force participation, and gradual recovery in employment post the pandemic period. The sharp increase observed after 2020 highlights the rebound in economic activity and rising workforce engagement across sectors. However, it also emphasizes the need for sustained job creation to effectively absorb the growing labour pool.

The labour force participation rate (LFPR) has also witnessed variations over time due to changing socio-economic conditions, including urbanization, education levels, and sectoral employment shifts.

These trends highlight the importance of implementing policies that not only generate employment opportunities but also improve job quality, productivity, and inclusivity across key sectors of the economy.

2.4.3 Disposable Income and Consumer Spending

Gross National Disposable Income (GNDI) represents the total income available to a nation's residents for consumption and saving after accounting for income transfers with the rest of the world. Per Capita GNDI has shown a consistent upward trajectory, rising from INR91,843 in FY14 to INR2,48,572 in FY26 (SAE). In FY25 (FRE), Per Capita GNDI stood at INR2,30,474, which further increased to INR2,48,572 in FY26 (SAE), reflecting a growth of approximately 7.9%. This steady increase indicates that households and businesses had more income at their disposal, which is critical for supporting both consumption and savings: key components of economic resilience and expansion.

The rise in GNDI has translated into higher consumer spending, as reflected in the growth of Private Final Consumption Expenditure (PFCE), which measures the total value of goods and services consumed by households. Per Capita PFCE has also maintained a consistent upward trend, growing from INR51,764 in FY14 to INR1,37,813 in FY26 (SAE). In FY25 (FRE), Per Capita PFCE stood at INR1,27,627, which further increased to INR1,37,813 in FY26 (SAE), reflecting a growth of approximately 8.0%, highlighting strong consumer confidence and robust domestic demand.

2.5 Union Budget FY26-27 Highlights

The Union Budget FY 2026–27, presented by Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, introduces a comprehensive set of measures aimed at stimulating economic growth, enhancing infrastructure, and fostering inclusive development. With a focus on sectors such as agriculture, MSMEs, infrastructure, innovation, and exports, the budget seeks to create a conducive environment for sustained economic expansion.

- Capital Expenditure and Infrastructure Development

In FY2026-27, the Union Budget has increased the public capex towards to INR 12.2 lakh crore from the previous INR 11.21 lakh crore (3.1% of GDP) which was earmarked in FY 2025–26. To strengthen the confidence of private developers regarding risks during infrastructure development and construction phase, the budget proposed to set up an Infrastructure Risk Guarantee Fund to provide prudently calibrated partial credit guarantees to lenders.

- Support for MSMEs

Recognizing the pivotal role of Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) in India's economic landscape, the budget introduced a three-pronged approach to support the sector. The budget introduced a dedicated INR 10,000 crore SME Growth Fund as well as proposed to top up the Self-Reliant India Fund set up in 2021, with INR 2,000 crore to continue support to micro enterprises and maintain their access to risk capital. With TReDS, more than INR 7 lakh crore has been made available to MSMEs. To leverage its full potential, the budget further proposed four measures: (i) mandate TReDS as the transaction settlement platform for all purchases from MSMEs by CPSEs, serving as a benchmark for other corporates; (ii) introduce a credit guarantee support mechanism through CGTMSE for invoice discounting on TReDS platform; (iii) link GeM with TReDS for sharing information with financiers about government purchases from MSMEs, encouraging cheaper and quicker financing; (iv) introduce TReDS receivables as asset-backed securities, helping develop a secondary market, enhancing liquidity and settlement of transactions. Moreover, Government will facilitate Professional Institutions such as ICAI, ICSI, ICMAI to design short-term, modular courses and practical tools to develop a cadre of 'Corporate Mitras', especially in Tier-II and Tier-III towns, which will help MSMEs meet compliance requirements at affordable costs.

- Establishment of dedicated Rare Earth Corridors

A Scheme for Rare Earth Permanent Magnets was launched in November 2025. In line with that, the budget proposed to support the mineral-rich States of Odisha, Kerala, Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu to establish dedicated Rare Earth Corridors to promote mining, processing, research and manufacturing.

- Integrated Programmer for the Textile Sector

The following Schemes have been announced:

- (a) The National Fibre Scheme for self-reliance in natural fibres such as silk, wool and jute, man-made fibres, and new-age fibres.
- (b) Textile Expansion and Employment Scheme to modernise traditional clusters with capital support for machinery, technology upgradation and common testing and certification centres.
- (c) A National Handloom and Handicraft programme to integrate and strengthen existing schemes and ensure targeted support for weavers and artisans.
- (d) Tex-Eco Initiative to promote globally competitive and sustainable textiles and apparels.
- (e) Samarth 2.0 to modernize and upgrade the textile skilling ecosystem through collaboration with industry and academic institutions.

- Carbon Capture Utilization and Storage (CCUS)

Aligning with the roadmap launched in December 2025, CCUS technologies at scale will achieve higher readiness levels in end-use applications across five industrial sectors, including, power, steel, cement, refineries and chemicals. An outlay of INR 20,000 crore is proposed over the next 5 years.

- Municipal Bonds

To encourage the issuance of municipal bonds of higher value by large cities, the budget proposed an incentive of INR 100 crore for a single bond issuance of more than INR 1000 crore. The current scheme under AMRUT which incentivises issuances up to INR 200 crore, will also continue to support smaller and medium towns.

- Ease of Doing Business

Individual Persons Resident Outside India (PROI) will be permitted to invest in equity instruments of listed Indian companies through the Portfolio Investment Scheme. It is also proposed to increase the investment limit for an individual PROI under this scheme from 5% to 10%, with an overall investment limit for all individual PROIs to 24%, from the current 10%.

- Hubs for Medical Value Tourism

To promote India as a hub for medical tourism services, the budget proposed to launch a Scheme to support States in establishing five Regional Medical Hubs, in partnership with the private sector. These Hubs will serve as integrated healthcare complexes that combine medical, educational and research facilities. They will have AYUSH Centres, Medical Value Tourism Facilitation Centres and infrastructure for diagnostics, post-care and rehabilitation. These Hubs will provide diverse job opportunities for health professionals including doctors and AHPs.

- Agriculture Related Schemes

To diversify farm outputs, increase productivity, enhance farmers' incomes, and create new employment opportunities, the budget announced support schemes related to high value crops such as coconut, sandalwood, cocoa and cashew in coastal areas. Agar trees in Northeast and nuts such as, almonds, walnuts and pine nuts in hilly regions will also be supported. India is the world's largest producer of coconuts.

About 30 million people, including nearly 10 million farmers, depend on coconuts for their livelihood. To further enhance competitiveness in coconut production, the Budget proposed a Coconut Promotion Scheme to increase production and enhance productivity through various interventions including replacing old and non-productive trees with new saplings/plants/varieties in major coconut growing States. A dedicated programme is proposed for Indian cashew and cocoa to make India self-reliant in raw cashew and cocoa production and processing, enhance export competitiveness and transform Indian Cashew and Indian Cocoa into premium global brands by 2030.

Further, the Central Government will partner with State Governments to promote focused cultivation and post-harvest processing to restore the glory of the Indian Sandalwood ecosystem. To rejuvenate old, low-yielding orchards and expand high-density cultivation of walnuts, almonds and pine nuts, the budget announced to support a dedicated programme to enhance farmer incomes and in bringing value addition by engaging youth.

The Union Budget FY 2026–27 presents a balanced approach to economic growth by addressing immediate consumption needs and laying the foundation for long-term sustainability. Through targeted investments in infrastructure, support for MSMEs, and sector-specific initiatives, the budget aims to foster an inclusive and resilient economy. These measures are expected to create new opportunities for financial institutions, as the growing demand for investment products will provide avenues for expansion and innovation in the financial services sector.

IIP Index – Fertilisers

The Index of Industrial Production (IIP) is a macro-economic indicator that measures changes in the level of industrial output in an economy over a period of time. It reflects the performance of the industrial sector, including manufacturing, mining, and electricity, by tracking variations in production volumes relative to a specified base year. IIP is used as an indicator of industrial activity and production momentum and provides insights into trends in industrial output. The index captures changes in physical production levels and does not reflect price movements, profitability, or company-specific performance.

Source: CMIE, Infomerics Analytics & Research

The Index of Industrial Production (IIP) for the fertilizer segment indicates that industrial output experienced a brief moderation during the initial years of the period under review. The index declined from 100 in 2011–12 to 96.7 in 2012–13, before gradually recovering to 98.1 in 2013–14 and 99.4 in 2014–15, reflecting a return towards base-year production levels.

From the mid-period onwards, fertilizer-related industrial production demonstrated a sustained improvement. The index increased to 106.3 in 2015–16 and remained broadly stable at 106.6 during 2016–17 and 2017–18, indicating consistency in production activity and output levels remaining above the base year.

In the later years of the period under review, the IIP showed a marked strengthening in output. The index rose from 107.0 in 2018–19 to 112.4 in 2021–22, followed by a sharper increase to 133.5 in 2024–25. The index remained broadly stable at 133.4 in 2025–26, indicating sustained high levels of industrial output.

Overall, the IIP trend reflects a long-term upward trajectory in fertilizer manufacturing activity, with industrial output expanding materially over the period under review relative to the base year.

WPI Index – Fertilisers

The Wholesale Price Index (WPI) measures changes in the prices of goods at the wholesale level over time. Trade Dynamics – Fertilisers

Source: MEIDB, Infomerics Analytics & Research

Fertilizer exports exhibited variability over the period under review. Exports stood at USD 104.96 million in FY 2021 and declined to USD 84.30 million in FY 2022. Thereafter, exports increased significantly to USD 130.53 million in FY 2023 and remained largely stable at USD 130.06 million in FY 2024, before rising further to USD 162.11 million in FY 2025. The upward movement in FY 2023 and FY 2025 indicates strengthening outbound trade performance in the fertilizers segment during the latter part of the period.

Fertilizer imports, however, remained substantially higher than exports throughout the period, reflecting structural import dependence in the segment. Imports increased from USD 6,872.76 million in FY 2021 to USD 12,766.00 million in FY 2022 and further to USD 15,322.50 million in FY 2023. Thereafter, imports moderated to USD 8,923.73 million in FY 2024 and further to USD 8,285.10 million in FY 2025. Despite the decline in FY 2024 and FY 2025, import levels remain materially higher than export levels.

Overall, the fertilizers segment reflects a trade deficit position over the period under review, with imports significantly exceeding exports, notwithstanding the improvement in export performance and moderation in import levels in the most recent financial years.

The fertilizer sector's import dependence is primarily driven by limited domestic availability of key raw materials such as rock phosphate and potash, which are essential for the production of phosphatic and potassic fertilizers. In addition, insufficient domestic production capacity relative to overall consumption requirements necessitates supplemental imports to bridge the demand supply gap. Rising demand for fertilizers ensure adequate availability across regions.

Metric	FY24	FY25	Growth (%)
Exports (USD Million)	130.06	162.11	 24.64%
Imports (USD Million)	8923.73	8285.1	 7.16%

Source: MEIDB, Infomerics Analytics & Research

During FY25, fertilisers exports recorded a notable increase, rising to USD 162.11 million from USD 130.06 million in FY24, reflecting a year-on-year growth of approximately 24.64%. The increase in export value indicates a strengthening of outward trade activity and suggests higher shipment volumes and/or improved realizations during the year. The expansion in exports highlights continued participation of domestic fertiliser producers in international markets and reflects the ability to service overseas demand across multiple geographies.

In contrast, fertilisers imports declined during FY25, decreasing to USD 8,285.10 million from USD 8,923.73 million in FY24, representing a reduction of approximately 7.16%. The decline in import value indicates moderated procurement levels during the year, which may reflect adjustments in sourcing volumes, inventory management, or substitution through domestic availability. Overall, the combined movement of higher exports and lower imports during FY25 resulted in a relatively improved trade position compared to the previous year, indicating a favourable shift in external trade dynamics for the fertilisers segment.

Trade Dynamics – Pesticides

Source: MEIDB, Infomerics Analytics & Research

Pesticide exports remained relatively stable over the period under review, with exports amounting to USD 31.70 million in FY 2021, USD 32.25 million in FY 2022, and USD 31.82 million in FY 2023. Exports moderated marginally to USD 31.40 million in FY 2024 and further to USD 30.40 million in FY 2025. The trend indicates a largely steady export base with limited volatility over the five-year period, suggesting stable overseas demand and consistent export positioning.

In contrast, pesticide imports witnessed a significant decline during the same period. Imports stood at USD 290.45 million in FY 2021 and decreased to USD 192.65 million in FY 2022, followed by a sharper reduction to USD 84.24 million in FY 2023. Imports further declined substantially to USD 11.62 million in FY 2024 and remained at comparable levels at USD 11.08 million in FY 2025. The reduction in import levels over the period indicates a marked contraction in inbound trade for pesticides relative to earlier years.

Overall, while exports have remained relatively stable with marginal moderation in FY 2024 and FY 2025, imports have declined significantly over the five-year period, reflecting a shift in trade dynamics within the pesticides segment during the period under review.

The dip in pesticide imports during the period under review may be attributable to increasing regulatory scrutiny and quality control measures aimed at curbing the circulation of counterfeit and low-quality products. The pesticides sector faces challenges from such sub-standard products, which are often cheaper and more easily available in the market and may contain unsafe ingredients, posing risks to farmers, crops, the environment, and public health. In addition, uneven trade practices and weak regulatory oversight in certain markets can result in compliance issues and product rejections, thereby impacting.

Metric	FY24	FY25	Growth (%)
Exports (USD Million)	31.4	30.4	 3.2%
Imports (USD Million)	11.62	11.08	 4.6%

Source: MEIDB, Infomerics Analytics & Research

During FY25, exports of pesticides declined marginally to USD 30.4 million from USD 31.4 million in FY24, reflecting a year-on-year decrease of approximately 3.2%. The moderation in export value indicates a relatively stable external demand environment, with limited variation compared to the previous year. The decline appears moderate in nature and does not indicate a structural change in export performance over the period under review.

Imports of pesticides also registered a decline during FY25, decreasing to USD 11.08 million from USD 11.62 million in FY24, representing a year-on-year reduction of approximately 4.6%. The reduction in imports suggests a moderation in sourcing levels, which may reflect adjustments in procurement volumes or inventory management compared to the preceding year.

Overall, the pesticides trade profile during FY25 reflects a modest contraction in both exports and imports, indicating broadly stable trade activity with limited year-on-year volatility. The movement in trade values suggests continuity in cross-border operations, with no material deviation from recent trends.

Detailed Overview of Challenges

1. Stringent Regulatory and Approval Requirements

Agrochemicals are subject to extensive regulatory oversight relating to product registration, usage norms, and environmental safety. Changes in regulations and lengthy approval processes may affect product availability and delay the introduction of new formulations.

2. Environmental and Health-Related Concerns

Growing concerns regarding the environmental and health impacts of chemical-based agrochemicals have increased public and regulatory scrutiny. This has influenced usage patterns and contributed to growing preference for alternative farming practices in certain markets.

3. Rising Costs of Raw Materials and Manufacturing

The production of agrochemicals depends on chemical intermediates and energy-intensive processes. Volatility in raw material prices and supply chain disruptions can impact production costs and pricing stability within the industry.

4. Resistance Development in Pests and Weeds

The increasing resistance of pests, weeds, and diseases to existing agrochemical products presents a significant challenge. Addressing resistance requires continuous innovation and development of new or improved formulations.

5. Fragmented Market Structure and Competitive Intensity

The agrochemicals market comprises many global and regional participants offering a wide range of products. Intense competition and pricing pressures can impact margins and require sustained investment in research, branding, and distribution networks.

6. Government Initiative and Policy support

1. Nutrient-Based Subsidy (NBS) Scheme

The Nutrient-Based Subsidy (NBS) Scheme governs the subsidy structure for phosphatic and potassic (P&K) fertilizers. Under this framework, subsidies are provided on a per-nutrient basis for essential nutrients such as nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, and sulphur. The objective of the scheme is to promote balanced fertilization and improve nutrient use efficiency. The NBS regime allows fertilizer manufacturers and marketers to determine the retail price of P&K fertilizers, subject to applicable regulations, while receiving fixed subsidy support from the Government. The scheme influences nutrient consumption patterns and supports rationalized fertilizer application practices.

2. Neem Coated Urea Policy

Under the Neem Coated Urea Policy, it is mandated that all domestically produced and imported urea for agricultural use be neem coated. The policy aims to enhance nitrogen use efficiency, reduce diversion of urea for non-agricultural purposes, and improve soil health outcomes. Neem coating slows the release of nitrogen, leading to better absorption by crops and reduced nutrient loss. This policy has had a structural impact on the fertilizer segment by standardizing formulation practices and influencing urea consumption dynamics.

3. PM-PRANAM (Promotion of Alternate Nutrients for Agriculture Management)

PM-PRANAM is an initiative designed to encourage the balanced and judicious use of fertilizers and promote the adoption of alternative and bio-based nutrient sources. The scheme seeks to reduce excessive dependence on conventional chemical fertilizers and incentivize states to adopt nutrient efficiency measures. By encouraging balanced fertilization and alternative nutrient adoption, PM-PRANAM has implications for both traditional fertilizer usage and the growth of specialty inputs such as micronutrients and bio-stimulants. The initiative reflects a policy shift toward sustainability and improved nutrient management practices within the agricultural ecosystem.

4. Dedicated Chemical Parks Scheme

The Union Budget 2026–27 proposed the establishment of three dedicated Chemical Parks with a budgetary allocation of ₹600 crore in the BE FY 2026-27 to support cluster-based manufacturing infrastructure. These parks are aimed at strengthening domestic chemical manufacturing, reducing reliance on imports, and enhancing competitiveness, including in segments such as crop protection chemicals and related agrochemical inputs

7. Technology and Digital Transformation in the Industry

Technological and digital transformation has increasingly influenced the agrochemicals industry by reshaping product development, manufacturing processes, and on-field application practices. The integration of digital tools and advanced technologies has enabled more efficient use of agrochemical inputs, improved decision-making in agriculture, and enhanced alignment with evolving farming practices. Key Technological and digital transformation in the industry are:

1. Precision Agriculture and Input Optimization

Precision agriculture technologies enable site-specific and crop-specific application of agrochemicals. The use of advanced equipment and monitoring tools supports accurate dosing and efficient utilization of fertilizers and crop protection products, improving application effectiveness.

2. Digital Farming Platforms and Advisory Tools

Digital farming platforms integrate data related to soil conditions, weather patterns, and crop health to support informed farm-level decision-making. These tools assist farmers in planning timely and appropriate agrochemical applications, improving overall crop management.

3. Advancements in Agrochemical Formulations

Technological progress has supported the development of improved agrochemical formulations with enhanced stability and application efficiency. Innovations in formulation design contribute to better performance under varied agronomic and climatic conditions.

4. Automation and Digitalization in Manufacturing Operations

The adoption of automation and digital process controls in manufacturing has improved operational efficiency and consistency. Digital systems support better monitoring of production processes, quality standards, and compliance requirements.

5. Digital Integration Across Supply Chains

Digital tools are increasingly used to manage inventory, logistics, and distribution networks within the agrochemicals industry. These systems enhance traceability, improve coordination, and support timely availability of products across markets.

6. Remote Sensing and Crop Monitoring Technologies

Remote sensing technologies, including satellite-based imagery and aerial monitoring tools, support real-time assessment of crop conditions. Early identification of pest or disease incidence enables targeted agrochemical intervention and improved response efficiency.

9. Competitive Landscape

The agrochemicals industry operates in a competitive environment marked by the presence of various participants offering a wide range of crop nutrition and crop protection products. Competition exists across both high-volume products such as fertilizers and pesticides, as well as specialty segments including micronutrients and bio-stimulants. Market positioning is influenced by operational capabilities, regulatory readiness, market access, and the ability to serve diverse agricultural requirements across crop cycles.

9.1 Key Factors Shaping Competition

Competition in the agrochemicals industry is shaped by a combination of structural, operational, and market-oriented factors. These factors determine how effectively companies can sustain their presence, expand market reach, and respond to evolving agricultural practices across product categories.

1. Product Portfolio and Range

Companies with a diversified product portfolio across fertilizers, pesticides, micronutrients, and bio-stimulants are better positioned to cater to varied crop needs and farming practices. A broader range of products allows manufacturers to address multiple stages of the crop cycle and engage more consistently with farmers.

2. Regulatory Compliance Capabilities

Compliance with regulatory requirements related to product approvals, manufacturing standards, and usage norms plays an important role in shaping competition. Companies with established compliance systems are better equipped to ensure product continuity and manage regulatory changes across markets.

3. Research and Product Development

Ongoing research and development supports improvement in product formulations and adaptation to evolving crop and soil requirements. In segments such as pesticides, micronutrients, and bio-stimulants, product effectiveness and consistency influence competitive positioning and farmer acceptance.

4. Distribution Network and Market Access

A strong distribution network enhances market reach and product availability, particularly in rural and semi-urban regions. Effective distribution enables timely supply of agrochemical products and supports deeper penetration across key agricultural markets.

5. Pricing and Cost Efficiency

Pricing remains an important competitive factor, especially in commodity fertilizer and crop protection segments. Companies with efficient sourcing, manufacturing scale, and cost management are better positioned to remain competitive in price-sensitive markets.

6. Brand Presence and Farmer Relationship

Brand recognition and trust built through consistent product performance influence purchasing decisions in the agrochemicals industry. Long-term relationships with farmers and distributors support repeat demand and strengthen competitive positioning.

9.2 Competitive Strategies

Participants in the agrochemicals industry adopt a range of competitive strategies to strengthen market presence, maintain relevance across crop cycles, and respond to evolving agricultural practices. These strategies focus on product positioning, operational efficiency, regulatory alignment, and market access, enabling companies to operate across both high-volume and specialty agrochemical segments. Key competitive strategies in the industry are:

1. Diversification Across Product Categories

Companies pursue diversification across fertilizers, pesticides, micronutrients, and bio-stimulants to reduce dependence on any single product segment. A diversified portfolio enables participation across multiple stages of the crop lifecycle and supports stable revenue streams.

2. Focus on Specialty and Value-Added Products

In addition to commodity products, companies increasingly focus on specialty offerings such as micronutrients and bio-stimulants. These products support differentiation, improve margins, and align with evolving nutrient management and crop care practices.

3. Strengthening Distribution and Market Reach

Expanding and strengthening distribution networks remains a key strategy to improve product availability and market penetration. Strong channel relationships enable companies to reach a wider farming base and respond effectively to seasonal demand patterns.

4. Cost Optimization and Operational Efficiency

Companies focus on optimizing procurement, manufacturing, and logistics to manage cost pressures. Operational efficiency supports competitive pricing, particularly in segments where price sensitivity remains high.

5. Regulatory Alignment and Product Continuity

Maintaining compliance with regulatory requirements is a critical strategic focus. Companies invest in systems and processes to ensure product approvals, renewals, and adherence to usage norms, supporting uninterrupted market presence.

6. Incremental Innovation in Formulations

Rather than disruptive changes, companies often pursue incremental improvements in formulations to enhance effectiveness, ease of application, and compatibility with farming practices. Such innovation supports product relevance without increasing complexity.

9.3 Barriers to Entry

The agrochemicals industry is characterized by multiple entry barriers arising from regulatory requirements, capital intensity, technical expertise, and market access constraints. These barriers influence the ability of new participants to enter the industry and scale operations across fertilizers, pesticides, micronutrients, and bio-stimulants. Key barriers to entry are:

1. Regulatory Approvals and Compliance Requirements

The agrochemicals industry is governed by detailed regulatory frameworks covering product registration, manufacture, sale, and usage. Crop protection products are subject to approval and oversight under legislation such as the proposed Pesticides Management Bill, administered by the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare, with regulatory supervision by bodies such as the Central Insecticides Board and Registration Committee. Compliance with testing, registration, labeling, and periodic review requirements involves significant time, cost, and procedural complexity, which acts as a meaningful barrier for new entrants.

2. High Capital and Infrastructure Requirements

Manufacturing and distributing agrochemicals require significant investment in production facilities, quality control systems, storage infrastructure, and logistics. The capital intensity is higher for products such as fertilizers and formulated crop protection chemicals, creating entry constraints for smaller players.

3. Technical and Formulation Expertise

Development of effective agrochemical products requires technical knowledge in chemistry, agronomy, and formulation science. In segments such as pesticides, micronutrients, and bio-stimulants, product efficacy and consistency depend on specialized expertise, which limits entry by inexperienced participants.

4. Established Distribution and Market Access

Access to established distribution networks and dealer relationships is critical for reaching end users. New entrants face challenges in building last-mile connectivity and competing with existing players that have long-standing channel relationships.

5. Brand Trust and Farmer Acceptance

Purchasing decisions in the agrochemicals industry are influenced by product performance and reliability. Established brands benefit from farmer trust built over time, making it difficult for new entrants to gain acceptance without demonstrated field performance.

6. Economies of Scale and Cost Competitiveness

Existing players benefit from scale advantages in procurement, manufacturing, and logistics. New entrants may face cost disadvantages until sufficient scale is achieved, particularly in price-sensitive segments such as fertilizers and certain crop protection products.

9.4 Consolidation Trends

Consolidation in the agrochemicals industry is evolving as a strategic response to regulatory intensity, cost pressures, and changing demand patterns across fertilizers, pesticides, micronutrients, and bio-stimulants. These trends reflect how industry participants are reshaping scale, portfolios, and market access rather than merely expanding capacity. Various trends in the industry are:

1. Consolidation of Registered Product Portfolios

There is a visible trend of consolidation of registered pesticide and specialty agrochemical portfolios, as maintaining registrations has become increasingly cost- and time-intensive. Players with limited compliance capabilities are divesting or discontinuing products, while larger participants consolidate approved actives and formulations under fewer entities.

2. Shift of Consolidation Focus Toward Specialty Products

Consolidation activity is increasingly centered on micronutrients and bio-stimulants rather than bulk fertilizers. Companies are acquiring or absorbing specialty product lines to strengthen presence in higher-value segments.

3. Distribution Networks Becoming Consolidation Targets

Market access is driving consolidation, with companies seeking to combine manufacturing or formulation capabilities with established dealer and retailer networks. Control over distribution is emerging as a key consolidation lever.

4. Preference for Portfolio Expansion Over Capacity Expansion

Consolidation is increasingly driven by portfolio acquisition rather than greenfield capacity addition. Companies prefer acquiring existing products with market acceptance instead of developing new formulations from scratch.

5. Rationalisation of Overlapping Brands and Products

Post-consolidation, companies are streamlining overlapping brands, formulations, and SKUs. This trend is leading to narrower but stronger product portfolios and lower regulatory maintenance burden.

6. Exit of Small and Sub-Scale Manufacturers

Smaller players with limited scale or compliance capability are gradually exiting certain product categories. This trend is reducing fragmentation, particularly in regulated and formulation-heavy segments.

7. Backward Integration through Proposed Manufacturing Facility to Strengthen our NPK Water-Soluble Fertilizer Operations

Our Company is engaged in the formulation and sale of NPK water-soluble fertilizers, wherein certain specific chemical inputs required for formulation are presently procured from third-party manufacturers and suppliers. The availability of certain such chemical inputs is limited and they are not readily available in the market in the required quantities. Consequently, our ability to manufacture and supply NPK water-soluble fertilizers is dependent, among other factors, on the timely availability of these specific chemical inputs from third-party sources.

Our revenue from NPK water-soluble fertilizers was ₹1,774.98 lakhs in Fiscal 2024, ₹1,846.91 lakhs in Fiscal 2025 and ₹1,708.33 lakhs in Fiscal 2026, representing 45.45%, 35.41% and 26.24% of our revenue from operations, respectively. The decline in revenue from NPK water-soluble fertilizers in Fiscal 2026 was attributable, inter alia, to constraints in the availability of certain specific chemical inputs required for formulation of NPK water-soluble fertilizers, which restricted our ability to cater to the demand for such products. Accordingly, our ability to increase the scale of our NPK water-soluble fertilizer operations has been constrained by our dependence on third-party manufacturers and suppliers for such inputs.

In order to address these supply-side constraints, our Company proposes to establish a new manufacturing facility at Chhatrapati Sambhajnagar, Maharashtra. The proposed facility represents a backward integration of our existing NPK water-soluble fertilizer operations and is intended to enable our Company to manufacture certain specific chemical inputs that are presently procured from third-party manufacturers and subsequently utilise such inputs for formulation of NPK water-soluble fertilizers.

We believe that the proposed backward integration, upon commencement of commercial operations, will enable us to have greater control over the availability and quality of certain critical chemical inputs, reduce our dependence on third-party manufacturers and suppliers, improve production planning and provide greater flexibility in responding to demand for our NPK water-soluble fertilizer products. Further, improved availability of such inputs is expected to enable us to better utilise our formulation capabilities and cater to customer requirements which may otherwise be constrained by non-availability or limited availability of such inputs.

The proposed manufacturing facility is therefore expected to address an existing supply-side constraint in our NPK water-soluble fertilizer operations and provide us with a platform to scale such operations, improve supply reliability and strengthen our presence in the NPK water-soluble fertilizer business. For further details of the proposed manufacturing facility, see "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 81.

STRATEGIES OF THE COMPANY

1. Strengthen and Expand Our Distribution Network Across Existing and New Geographies

The Company intends to deepen its market penetration in its existing operational states of Maharashtra, Gujarat, Karnataka and Chhattisgarh by increasing the density of its agri-input dealer network. Simultaneously, the Company plans to expand into additional agro-climatically compatible regions where it believes there is potential demand for its product portfolio, particularly fertilizers, micronutrients and hybrid seeds. Such expansion is proposed to be undertaken in a phased and calibrated manner by leveraging the Company's existing distribution network and decentralised sales structure comprising Regional Managers, Area Sales Managers, Sales Officers and Field Assistants. The Company believes that an expanded distribution footprint, coupled with continued field-level customer engagement and after-sales support, will enhance product accessibility, strengthen brand visibility and support future business growth.

2. Increase Revenue Contribution from Manufacturing vis-à-vis Trading

The Company currently derives its revenue from a combination of manufacturing/formulation activities and trading of agri-input products. During Financial year 2025-26, manufactured and formulated products contributed 49.82% of the Company's revenue from operations, while for financial year 2024-25 manufactured and formulated products contributed 42.35%. The Company intends to progressively increase the contribution of products manufactured and formulated under its own brands in its overall revenue mix.

To achieve this objective, the Company proposes to strengthen its manufacturing and formulation capabilities through expansion of existing operations at Chhatrapati Sambhajnagar, Maharashtra, enhancement of technical and product development capabilities, and introduction of additional products under its proprietary brands. Further, the proposed establishment of a new manufacturing facility for NPK water-soluble fertilizers, as detailed under "Objects of the Issue", beginning on page no. 81, is expected to support the Company's manufacturing footprint and product portfolio.

The Company believes that increasing the contribution of manufactured and formulated products may improve operational efficiencies, enhance value addition across the supply chain, strengthen brand positioning and reduce dependence on third-party procurement for certain product categories. For details of our manufacturing operations and revenue contribution from various product categories, please see "Our Business – Manufacturing Operations", "Segment-wise Breakup" and "Product-wise Revenue Bifurcation" on pages 158, and 159, respectively.

3. Strengthen Customer Relationships Through Field-Level Engagement and Technical Support

The Company intends to further strengthen its engagement with farmers, distributors and retailers through its field-based sales force comprising Regional Managers, Area Sales Managers, Sales Officers and Field Assistants. The Company proposes to continue providing product-related guidance, technical support and crop-specific information to customers across its areas of operation. Through regular interaction with farmers and channel partners, the Company seeks to improve awareness of its product portfolio, strengthen customer relationships and enhance market acceptance of its products, including its proprietary hybrid seed varieties. The Company believes that sustained field-level engagement and after-sales support will contribute to increased customer retention, improved brand visibility and expansion of its business operations.

4. Strengthen Human Resources to Support Business Expansion

The Company intends to continue strengthening its human resource base across sales, marketing, manufacturing, quality assurance, procurement and other operational functions to support its future growth initiatives. As the Company expands its distribution network, product portfolio and manufacturing capabilities, it expects to augment its workforce in line with operational requirements. The Company believes that attracting and retaining qualified personnel, coupled with continuous development of employee capabilities, will support efficient execution of its business strategies and enable it to maintain operational standards across its areas of operation. The Company also intends to leverage the experience of its Promoters and senior management team in developing and strengthening its organizational capabilities as it pursues future growth opportunities.

LAWS RELATED TO EMPLOYMENT OF MANPOWER:

To rationalize and reform labour laws in India, the Government has enacted the following codes which have been officially notified on November 21, 2025, and the Rules thereunder have been framed and notified on May 08, 2026:

Code on Wages, 2019 and Code on Wages (Central) Rules, 2026

The Code regulates and amalgamates wage and bonus payments and subsumes four existing laws namely – the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965, and the Equal Remuneration Act, 1976. It regulates, inter alia, the minimum wages payable to employees, the manner of payment and calculation of wages and the payment of bonus to employees. It mandates universal minimum wages and timely payments for all employees across all sectors. Section 9 read with Rule 11 of the Code introduces floor wages as a statutory provision. The baseline wages will be fixed by the Central government on the basis of minimum living standards of an employee including food, clothing etc. It will be revised at regular intervals. State governments must ensure their minimum wages are not lower than this floor level. Section 56 read with Rule 36 of the code replaces criminal penalties (like imprisonment) with civil penalties (like graded monetary fines) for first time offences punishable with fine only. It introduces a provision of compounding for offenses punishable (with fine only) by paying sum of fifty percent of the maximum fine.

Industrial Relations Code, 2020 and Industrial Relations (Central) Rules, 2026

consolidates and amends laws relating to trade unions, the conditions of employment in industrial establishments and undertakings, and the investigation and settlement of industrial disputes. It subsumes and simplifies the Trade Unions Act, 1926, the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 and the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The Industrial Relations Code, 2020 creates a balanced and progressive framework that benefits workers, employers, and the economy alike. It is pro-labour, ensuring fair representation, job security, and quicker dispute resolution. To ensure that more workers have access to basic labour rights, inclusive definition of ‘worker’ has been established. Pursuant to Section 2(zr) of Industrial Relations Code, 2020, the definition of ‘worker’ has been expanded to include sales promotion employees, working journalists, and supervisory employees earning up to ₹18,000 per month, thereby extending statutory labour protections to a wider segment of the workforce. As per Section 2(p) of Industrial Relations Code, 2020, the term “industry” now encompasses any systematic activity carried on by cooperation between employer and worker, regardless of whether capital is invested or profit is intended, thereby bringing non-profit and low-capital activities within its ambit. The Code provides the 50% ceiling on exclusions to ensure that statutory benefits such as gratuity, retrenchment compensation, and social security contributions are calculated on a fair and substantial portion of actual earnings, preventing employers from artificially splitting wages to reduce obligations.

Code on Social Security, 2020 and Social Security (Central) Rules, 2026

The Code amends and consolidates laws relating to social security, and subsumes various social security related legislations, inter alia including the Employee’s State Insurance Act, 1948, the Employees’ Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952, the Maternity Benefit Act, 1961 and the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. It governs the constitution and functioning of social security organisations such as the employee’s provident fund and the employee’s state insurance corporation, regulates the payment of gratuity, the provision of maternity benefits and compensation in the event of accidents that employees suffer, among others. The Code Extends EPFO and ESIC coverage nationwide, bringing more establishments and workers under social security benefits, recognizes Gig and Platform workers for the first time and establishes a Social Security Fund for their welfare; Strengthens women-centric provisions including 26 weeks of maternity leave, work-from-home option, and crèche facilities; Promotes ease of doing business through digital records, decriminalization and compounding of offences, and a transparent, technology-driven Inspector cum facilitator system. Under Section 53 of the code, the Government has reduced the eligibility requirement for gratuity for Fixed Term Employees (FTEs) from five years to one year. In case where the employee completes one year of continuous service, gratuity shall be applicable on proportionate basis. Social security benefits have been extended to unorganised, gig and platform workers under Sections 113 & 114 of the Code on Social Security, 2020. The code also addressed the gap and includes definition of aggregator (digital intermediary). This shall benefit such workers directly.

Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020 and Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions (Central) Rules, 2026

The Code amends and consolidates laws regarding the occupational safety, health and working conditions of persons employed in an establishment. It subsumes 13 enactments including, among others, the Factories Act, 1948 and the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970. The Code balances the twin objectives of safeguarding worker rights and safe working conditions, and creating a business-friendly regulatory environment spur economic growth and employment thereby, making India's labour market more efficient, fair, and future-ready by streamlining compliance through measures such as single registration, all-India licenses, electronic filings, and time-bound approvals. The Ministry of Labour & Employment has also taken steps to develop a national database to enroll unorganized workers including migrants. This code has provided health, safety and welfare of workers in all sectors which was previously limited to 7 sectors viz. factories, mines, plantation, beedi-cigar, dock workers, BOCW and motor transport.

The Indian government notified the four new labour codes on November 21, 2025. These notifications bring key provisions into effect and are under implementation stage and shall become fully operational after draft rules are pre-published for public feedback and brought into effect. The codes consolidate 29 existing laws to simplify compliance and modernize labour regulations.

The Employees' Provident Funds Scheme, 2026, notified under the Code on Social Security, 2020, has replaced the Employees' Provident Funds Scheme, 1952 with effect from 29 June 2026 governs provident fund contributions, withdrawals, administration and compliance obligations for covered establishments and eligible employees. The Scheme modernises the existing provident fund framework by strengthening compliance and governance mechanisms.

Non-compliance may attract interest, damages, penalties and other actions under applicable law.

"Covered employers are required to contribute 0.5% of the wages of each eligible employee, subject to the statutory wage ceiling prescribed under applicable law, towards the Employees' Deposit-Linked Insurance Fund."

Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, as amended (the "Gratuity Act")

The Gratuity Act establishes a scheme for the payment of gratuity to employees engaged in every factory, mine, oil field, plantation, port and railway company, every shop or establishment in which ten or more persons are employed or were employed on any day of the preceding twelve months and in such other establishments in which ten or more employees are employed or were employed on any day of the preceding twelve months, as notified by the Central Government from time to time. The Restated Financial Information has been prepared on a historical cost basis.

The accounting policies have been consistently applied by the Company in preparation of the Restated Financial Information. The Company has evaluated events and transactions occurring after the respective balance sheet dates and up to August 03, 2026, being the date on which the Restated Financial Information was approved by the Board of Directors and the date of the report thereon. Events that provide additional evidence of conditions existing as at

The Restated Financial Information:

- a) have been prepared after incorporating adjustments for the changes in accounting policies, material errors, if any, and regrouping/reclassifications retrospectively in the financial years ended March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024 to reflect the same accounting treatment as per the accounting policies and grouping/classifications followed as at and for the period ended March 31, 2026.

2.2 Use of estimates

The Company is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the Restated Financial Information and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The Company bases its estimates on historical experience.

2.3 Significant Accounting Judgements and Estimates

The preparation of the Restated Financial Information requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income, expenses and disclosures.

Significant estimates include, among others:

Useful lives and residual values of Property, Plant and Equipment;
Valuation of inventories and determination of net realisable value;
Recognition of deferred tax assets;
Provision for doubtful receivables;
Actuarial valuation of gratuity obligations;
Contingent liabilities and provisions;
Assessment of impairment of assets.

Actual results may differ from these estimates and revisions are recognised prospectively.

2.4 Summary of significant accounting policies.

a) Current versus non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the restated statement of assets and liabilities based on current / non-current classification.

An asset is classified as current when it is expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle, held primarily for the purpose of trading, expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period. All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is classified as current when it is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle, it is held primarily for the purpose of trading, it is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or there is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period. The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents. The Company has identified twelve months as its operating cycle.

b) Foreign currencies

Foreign Currency Transactions

The Restated Financial Information is presented in Indian Rupees, which is the Company's reporting currency.

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies, primarily relating to the import of goods, are initially recorded in Indian Rupees at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction.

At each balance sheet date:

- (a) monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are restated at the closing exchange rate;
- (b) non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies and carried at historical cost are reported using the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction.

Exchange differences arising on settlement of foreign-currency monetary items or on restatement of such monetary items at the closing exchange rate are recognised as income or expense in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they arise.

c) Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, net of trade discounts, rebates, returns, Goods and Services Tax ("GST") and other amounts collected on behalf of third parties. Revenue is recognized when it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably.

Sale of Goods

Revenue from the sale of manufactured goods, processed goods and traded goods (stock-in-trade) is recognised when all the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have been transferred to the customer, there is no continuing managerial involvement or effective control over the goods sold, the amount of revenue can be measured reliably, and it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company. Sales are recognised net of trade discounts, sales returns, rebates and Goods and Services Tax (GST).

Sale of services

Revenue from services is recognised as and when the services are rendered in accordance with the terms of the respective contracts and when the amount of revenue can be measured reliably.

Other operating revenue

Where the Company is contractually entitled to receive claims/compensation in case of non-discharge of obligations by customers, such claims/compensations are measured at amount receivable from such customers and are recognised as other operating revenue when there is a reasonable certainty that the Company will be able to realize the said amounts.

Interest income

Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis taking into account the outstanding amount and the applicable interest rate. Interest income is included under the head "other income" in the restated statement of profit and loss account.

Discounts and other operating revenue

Trade discounts, quantity discounts, rebates, sales incentives, scheme discounts and other similar amounts directly attributable to the sale of goods are not deducted from gross revenue in determining revenue from operations. Discounts allowed that are not directly attributable to sales and are in the nature of settlement or financing charges are recognised as an expense in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Discounts and rebates received from suppliers that are directly attributable to the purchase of raw materials, packing materials or stock-in-trade are adjusted against the related purchase cost or the cost of inventories, as applicable, and are not recognised separately as other income.

Revenue from the sale of damaged, rejected or obsolete seeds and recovery of packing or packaging charges arising in the ordinary course of business is recognised as other income when the amount can be measured reliably and there is reasonable certainty of collection. Such revenue is recognised as income in Goods and Services Tax and other amounts collected on behalf of the Government.

d) Taxes

Current tax

Current tax represents the amount of income tax payable in respect of taxable income for the relevant year, determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income-tax Act, 1961 and the applicable tax rates and tax laws.

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to or recovered from the taxation authorities. The tax effect of adjustments relating to earlier years, if any, is recognised in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which such adjustments are determined.

Advance tax, tax deducted at source and other income-tax payments are presented after adjustment against the provision for current tax, where the Company has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and intends to settle them on a net basis.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised on timing differences between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all timing differences, subject to the consideration of prudence in respect of deferred tax assets.

Deferred tax assets, other than those arising from unabsorbed depreciation and carry-forward of losses under the tax laws, are recognised and carried forward only to the extent that there is a reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised.

Where deferred tax assets arise from unabsorbed depreciation or carry-forward of losses under the tax laws, they are recognised only to the extent that there is virtual certainty, supported by convincing evidence, that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted as at the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted to their present value.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and written down to the extent that it is no longer reasonably certain or virtually certain, as applicable, that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised. Any such write-down is reversed to the extent that the requisite certainty subsequently exists. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are reassessed at each balance sheet date and recognised to the extent that the applicable recognition criteria are satisfied.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset where the Company has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and liabilities relate to taxes on income levied under the same governing taxation laws.

Minimum Alternate Tax

Credit of MAT is recognised as deferred tax asset only when it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the credit can be utilised. In the year in which the MAT credit becomes eligible to be recognised as an asset, the said asset is created by way of a credit to the restated statement of profit and loss account. The Company reviews the same at each balance sheet date and writes down the carrying amount of MAT credit entitlement to the extent it is no longer probable that the Company will pay normal income tax during the specified period.

Taxes paid on acquisition of assets or on incurring expenses

Assets are recognised net of the amount of GST paid, except when the tax incurred on a purchase of assets is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case, the tax paid is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset.

Expenses are recognised net of the amount of GST paid, except when the tax incurred on a purchase of services is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case, the tax paid is expensed off in restated statement of profit and loss.

The net amount of tax recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included as part of other current/non-current assets or other current liabilities in the restated statement of assets and liabilities.

e) Property, plant and equipment

Property, Plant and Equipment ("PPE") are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Cost comprises purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable taxes, directly attributable costs incurred in bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use and borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

Subsequent expenditure relating to Property, Plant and Equipment is capitalised only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company and the cost can be measured reliably. All repairs and maintenance expenses are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss during the period in which they are incurred.

Capital work-in-progress comprises expenditure incurred on assets that are not yet ready for their intended use as at the reporting date.

An item of Property, Plant and Equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Depreciation on Property, Plant and Equipment is provided on the Written Down Value (WDV) Method over the estimated useful lives prescribed under Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013, except where a different useful life is supported by technical assessment, if any.

The estimated useful lives, residual values and method of depreciation are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted prospectively, wherever considered necessary.

Assets	Useful life (Years)
Factory Building	30
Factory Road	30
Plant and machinery	15
Factory Equipment	15
Laboratory Equipment	10
Electrical Installation	10
Office Equipment	5
Air Conditioners	5
Furniture and Fixtures	10
Computer	3 to 6
Vehicle	8 to 10

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

f) Intangible Assets

Separately acquired intangible assets, such as software are measured initially at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Internally generated intangible assets, excluding capitalized development costs, are not capitalized and expenditure is reflected in the restated statement of profit and loss in the year in which the expenditure is incurred. Intangible assets with finite useful lives are carried at cost and are amortised on a Straight line value basis over their estimated useful lives and charged to restated statement of profit and loss.

Software and licenses acquired are amortized at the 5 years on straight line value method.

The amortization period and the amortization method are reviewed at least at each financial year end. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortisation period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates. The amortisation expense on intangible assets is recognised in the restated statement of profit and loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the restated statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

g) Capital Work-in-progress

Cost and direct expense incurred for construction of assets or assets to be acquired and which are not ready for use are disclosed under “Capital Work-in-progress”

h) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in the restated statement of profit and loss in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

i) Impairment

At each Balance Sheet date, the Company assesses whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and its value in use.

Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. For the purpose of impairment assessment, assets are grouped at the lowest level for which identifiable cash flows are largely independent (Cash Generating Unit), where applicable.

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognised in earlier periods may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the impairment loss is reversed to the extent permitted under Accounting Standard (AS) 28. However, the increased carrying amount of the asset after reversal shall not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of depreciation) had no impairment loss been recognised in prior years.

j) Provisions and contingencies

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the Company expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed, the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset, but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the restated statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

a) a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company; or
(b) a present obligation arising from past events that is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or because a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent liabilities are not recognised in the Restated Financial Information but are disclosed in the notes, unless the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote. Contingent liabilities are reviewed at each balance sheet date to determine whether an outflow of resources has become probable. Where such outflow becomes probable and a reliable estimate can be made, a provision is recognised in the period in which the change occurs.

Contingent assets are not recognised in Restated Financial Information. They are disclosed where an inflow of economic benefits is probable. Where the realisation of income is virtually certain, the related asset is recognised. Commitments, including estimated amounts of contracts remaining to be executed on capital account and not provided for, are disclosed separately in the notes to Restated Financial Information, wherever applicable.

k) Earnings/ (loss) per share (EPS)

Basic EPS amounts are calculated by dividing the profit/ (loss) for the year attributable to equity holders by the weighted average number of Equity shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted EPS amounts are calculated by dividing the profit/ (loss) attributable to equity holders by the weighted average number of Equity shares outstanding during the year plus the weighted average number of Equity shares that would be issued on conversion of all the dilutive potential Equity shares into Equity shares.

l) Segment reporting

The Company has identified business segments as its primary segment for reporting in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 17 – "Segment Reporting".

The Company is engaged in the manufacture, processing, trading and marketing of agricultural inputs. The Company's operations are managed on an integrated basis and the Board of Directors reviews the financial performance and allocates resources for the agricultural-inputs business as a whole. Accordingly, "Agricultural Inputs" constitutes the Company's single reportable business segment under AS 17 – Segment Reporting. Product-wise revenue information is presented as supplementary information and does not represent separate reportable segments.

Since the Company operates predominantly within India, there is no separate geographical segment requiring disclosure.

m) Inventories

Inventories comprise raw materials, packing materials, work-in-progress, finished goods, stock-in-trade (traded goods), stores and spares, and are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

The basis of valuation is as follows:

i. Raw Materials, Packing Materials and Stores & Spares

Valued at the lower of weighted average cost and net realisable value

ii. Work-in-Progress

Valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises direct materials, direct labour and an appropriate proportion of manufacturing overheads based on normal operating capacity.

iii. Finished Goods

Finished goods manufactured by the Company are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost includes direct materials, direct labour and appropriate manufacturing overheads and is determined on the First-In First-Out (FIFO) method.

iv. Stock-in-Trade (Traded Goods)

Stock-in-trade consisting of goods purchased for resale is valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using the First-In First-Out (FIFO) method.

v. Net Realisable Value

Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

n) Exceptional Items

On certain occasions, the size, type or incidence of an item of income or expense, pertaining to the ordinary activities of the Company is such that its disclosure improves the understanding of the performance of the Company. Such income or expense is classified as an exceptional item and accordingly disclosed in the Restated Financial Information.

o) Government Grants and Subsidies

i) Grants and subsidies from the government are recognized when there is reasonable assurance that (a) the company will comply with the conditions attached to them, and (b) the grant/subsidy will be received.

ii) Where the grant relates to an asset, it is shown as a reduction from the gross value of the asset concerned in arriving at its book value. The grant is thus recognised in the statement of profit and loss over the useful life of the asset by way of reduced depreciation charge.

iii) Where the grant relates to reimbursement of interest on term loan, it is recognised as a reduction from the finance cost of the term loan concerned.

p) Employee Benefits

i) Short Term Employee Benefits:

All employee benefits payable within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term benefits. Such benefits include salaries, wages, bonus, short term compensated absences, awards, ex-gratia, performance pay etc. and the same are recognised in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

ii) Employment Benefits:

a) Provident Fund/ESIC:

Retirement benefit in the form of Provident Fund and Employee State Insurance Corporation Fund (ESIC) are defined contribution schemes. The Company is statutorily required to contribute a specified portion of the basic salary of an employee to a provident fund and ESIC as a part of retirement benefits to its employees. The contributions during the period are charged to statement of profit and loss. The Company recognizes contribution payable to the Provident Fund and ESIC scheme as an expenditure when an employee renders related service.

b) Gratuity:

The Company provides gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan, to eligible employees in accordance with the provisions of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972.

The liability in respect of gratuity is determined on the basis of an actuarial valuation carried out at each Balance Sheet date by an independent qualified actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 15 – Employee Benefits.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they arise.

The Company recognises the net defined benefit obligation as a liability in the Balance Sheet, and the related gratuity expense is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The gratuity obligation is presently unfunded.

q) Investments

i) Investments, which are readily realizable and intended to be held for not more than one year from the date on which such investments are made, are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long-term investments.

ii) On initial recognition, all investments are measured at cost. The cost comprises purchase price and directly attributable acquisition charges such as brokerage, fees and duties.

iii) Current investments are carried in the Restated Financial Statements at lower of cost and fair value determined on an individual investment basis. Long-term investments are carried at cost. However, provision for diminution in value is made to recognize a decline other than temporary in the value of the investments.

iv) The cost of investments comprises purchase price and directly attributable acquisition charges such as brokerage, fees and duties.

v) On disposal of an investment, the difference between its carrying amount and net disposal proceeds is charged or credited to the statement of profit and loss.

r) Trade Receivables

Trade receivables are recognised when the Company has an unconditional right to receive consideration from customers in respect of goods sold or services rendered. They are initially recognised at the amount invoiced to the customer, net of trade discounts, rebates, sales returns and taxes collected on behalf of the Government.

Trade receivables are subsequently carried at the amount due from customers, less provision for doubtful debts, if any.

The adequacy of provision for doubtful debts is assessed at each balance sheet date based on specific identification of doubtful balances, ageing of receivables, past collection experience, subsequent receipts, disputes with customers, financial condition of the customers and other relevant information available to the management.

A provision for doubtful debts is recognised in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss when there is uncertainty regarding recovery of the amount due. Bad debts are written off when identified as irrecoverable. Recoveries of amounts previously written off are recognised in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are received.

s) Leases

Lease arrangements are classified as finance leases where substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the leased asset are transferred to the Company. All other lease arrangements are classified as operating leases.

In respect of operating leases, lease rentals are recognised as an expense in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term, unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern of the Company's benefit.

The Company's lease arrangements during the periods covered by the Restated Financial Information are cancellable and renewable by mutual consent on such terms as may be agreed with the respective lessors. Substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the leased premises/assets remain with the respective lessors and, accordingly, such arrangements have been classified as operating leases.

The Company did not have any non-cancellable operating lease commitments or finance lease arrangements during the periods covered by the Restated Financial Information.

t) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand, balances with banks in current accounts and demand deposits, and short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

For the purpose of classification as cash equivalents, an investment or deposit is considered short-term when it has an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition.

Bank deposits having an original maturity of more than three months but not exceeding twelve months are classified as other bank balances under current assets. Deposits having an original maturity exceeding twelve months are classified under the appropriate non-current asset category.

Balances with banks that are subject to restrictions on withdrawal or use, including earmarked balances, margin money deposits and deposits held as security against borrowings, guarantees or other commitments, are not considered freely available cash and cash equivalents. Such balances are presented separately under the appropriate current or non-current asset category based on the nature of the restriction and the remaining maturity.

For the purpose of the Restated Statement of Cash Flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits as defined above, net of outstanding bank overdrafts, if any, where such overdrafts are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Company's cash-management system. Significant cash and cash-equivalent balances that are not available for use by the Company are separately disclosed together with the nature of the applicable restriction.

u) Advance Professional Fees and Share-Issue Expenses

Advance professional fees paid in connection with the proposed issue of equity shares are recognised under Other Current Assets to the extent that the related professional services are yet to be received. Upon receipt of the services, expenditure that is directly attributable and incremental to the proposed issue is accumulated as share-issue expenses pending adjustment. Upon successful completion of the issue, such expenditure is adjusted against the Securities Premium Account in accordance with Section 52 of the Companies Act, 2013. Expenditure that is not directly attributable to the issue is recognised in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss when incurred. Where the proposed issue is abandoned or is no longer considered probable, the accumulated expenditure is charged to the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss. The carrying amount is reviewed at each balance sheet date.

Notes to adjustments:

Note 1: Adjustment of Employee Expenses:

In the audited financial statements, the gratuity obligation was not recognised in accordance with the actuarial valuation requirements of Accounting Standard (AS) 15 – Employee Benefits. During the restatement, the gratuity obligation and related employee-benefit expense were recomputed on the basis of actuarial valuation reports prepared using the Projected Unit Credit Method.

Accordingly, employee-benefit expense was increased by ₹ 1.72 lakh and ₹ 4.05 lakh for the years ended March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2025 Including gratuity liability, with the consequential impact on equity. The related deferred-tax effect has been disclosed under Note 2 below.

Note 2: Adjustment on account of Provision of Deferred Tax Assets:

During the restatement, deferred-tax assets and liabilities were recomputed in accordance with AS 22 – Accounting for Taxes on Income, based on timing differences arising from the difference between the carrying amount and tax written-down value of property, plant and equipment, provision for gratuity, amounts disallowable under section 43B of the Income-tax Act, 1961 and other applicable timing differences.

The recomputation resulted in an adjustment to deferred-tax income/(expense) of ₹(0.40) lakh, ₹0.33 lakh and ₹(0.09) lakh for the years ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024, respectively.

Note 3: Provision of Income Tax (Current/Prior Period):

During the restatement, the provision for current income tax was recomputed on the taxable income determined after giving effect to the respective restatement adjustments and in accordance with the applicable provisions and tax rates under the Income-tax Act, 1961.

The recomputation resulted in an adjustment to profit after tax of ₹(2.04) lakh, ₹1.00 lakh and ₹3.57 lakh for the years ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024, respectively.

Note 4: Accounting of PPE, Capitalisation, Decapitalisation of Certain Exp & Profit/Loss Calculation on Sale of PPE:

During the restatement, the accounting treatment of expenditure relating to property, plant and equipment was reviewed with reference to the nature of the expenditure and the applicable accounting policy.

The dates on which the assets were available for use, applicable depreciation rates and depreciation charged on assets sold or discarded were also reassessed. Consequently, depreciation and amortisation expense was decreased by ₹Nil, ₹3.51 lakh and ₹4.77 lakh for the respective years.

Note 5: Accounting of Interest and other Borrowing Costs

During the restatement, borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets were identified and capitalised as part of the cost of the respective assets in accordance with AS 16 – Borrowing Costs.

Consequently, finance costs were decreased by ₹Nil, ₹1.12 lakh and ₹0.97 lakh for the years ended March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024, respectively.

Note 6: Adjustment of Other Expenses:

During the restatement, expenses recorded in a financial year different from the year to which they related were identified and recognised in the appropriate accounting periods in accordance with the accrual basis of accounting.

Accordingly, other expenses were increased/(decreased) by ₹ 16.46 lakh, ₹ (11.58) lakh and ₹ (11.44) lakh for the years ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024, respectively.

The adjustment represents correction of the period of recognition and not a change in accounting policy or accounting estimate.

Upon laboratory analysis, the sample was found to be non-standard, as it failed to conform to the prescribed specifications under the Fertilizer (Control) Order, 1985, particularly with respect to Water Soluble Potash (K ₂ O), and was also found deficient in Water Soluble Phosphate (P ₂ O ₅) in the initial analysis. The re-analysis conducted on the guard sample also confirmed that the fertilizer remained non-standard due to deficiency in the prescribed Potash (K ₂ O) content. Consequently, the accused, namely Accused No. 1 (manufacturer), Accused No. 2 (Area Manager responsible for quality and marketing), and Accused No. 3 (retailer), have been charged with committing offences under Clauses 19(a) and 19(b) of the Fertilizer (Control) Order, 1985, read with Section 3 and punishable under Section 7 of the Essential Commodities Act, 1955, for manufacturing and selling non-standard Water Soluble NPK Mix Fertilizer (13:40:13). Accordingly, the present complaint has been filed before the Court.

Phased implementation of Unified Payments Interface

SEBI has issued the UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of, inter alia, equity shares. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, the UPI Mechanism has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under ASBA) for applications by UPI Bidders through Designated Intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public Issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. The SEBI in its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023, has reduced the time period for listing of equity shares pursuant to a public Issue from six Working Days to three Working Days. The timeline was applicable on a voluntary basis for public Issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and has been made applicable on a mandatory basis for public Issues opening on or after December 1, 2023. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public Issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, an RIIs had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediary and use his/her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public Issue closure to listing continued to be three Working Days.

Phase II: This phase became applicable from July 1, 2019 and was to initially continue for a period of three months or floating main board public Issues, whichever was later. SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019 had decided to extend the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II until March 31, 2020. Subsequently, SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020 extended the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II until further notice. Under this phase, submission of the ASBA Form by RIIs through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds was discontinued and replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public Issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days during this phase.

Phase III: This phase has become applicable on a voluntary basis for all Issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and on a mandatory basis for all Issues opening on or after December 1, 2023, vide SEBI circular bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023 (“T+3 Notification”). In this phase, the time duration from public Issue closure to listing has been reduced to three Working Days. The Issue shall be undertaken pursuant to the processes and procedures as notified in the T+3 Notification as applicable, subject to any circulars, clarification or notification issued by SEBI from time to time, including any circular, clarification or notification which may be issued by SEBI. The Issue is being made under Phase III of the UPI (on a mandatory basis). The processing fees for applications made by UPI Bidders may be released to the SCSBs only after such banks provide a written confirmation, in compliance with the SEBI RTA Master Circular in a format as prescribed by SEBI, from time to time, and such payment of processing fees to the SCSBs shall be made in compliance with circulars prescribed by SEBI and applicable law.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991, the FDI Policy and FEMA. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, 1991 unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment.

The RBI, the DPIIT and other concerned ministries/departments are responsible for granting approvals for foreign investment. The Government has from time to time made policy pronouncements on foreign direct investment (“FDI”) through press notes and press releases. The DPIIT, issued the Consolidated Foreign Direct Investment Policy notified by the DPIIT File No. 5(2)/2020FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020 (“FDI Policy”), which, with effect from October 15, 2020 consolidated and superseded all previous press notes, press releases, circulars and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT that were in force and effect as on October 15, 2020. The FDI Policy will be valid until the DPIIT issues an updated circular. FDI in companies engaged in sectors/ activities which are not listed in the FDI Policy is permitted up to 100% of the paid-up share capital of such company under the automatic route, subject to compliance with certain prescribed conditions.

In terms of the FEMA NDI Rules, a person resident outside India may make investments into India, subject to certain terms and conditions, and provided that an entity of a country, which shares land border with India or the beneficial owner of an investment into India who is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, shall invest only with government approval. The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a Non-Resident does not require the prior approval of the RBI, provided that (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the FDI Policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the SEBI Takeover Regulations; (ii) the Non-Resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI Policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI / RBI.

In accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the FDI Policy and the FEMA NDI Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/ purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Furthermore, on April 22, 2020, the Ministry of Finance, Government of India has also made a similar amendment to the FEMA NDI Rules. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020 issued on December 8, 2020, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank of fund in India. Each Bidder should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Issue. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Bidder shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Issue in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Issue Period.

Any equity holding by a person resident outside India resulting from conversion of any debt instrument under any arrangement shall be reckoned as foreign investment under the composite cap.

Portfolio investment up to aggregate foreign investment level of 49% or sectoral / statutory cap, whichever is lower, will not be subject to either Government approval or compliance of sectoral conditions, if such investment does not result in transfer of ownership and/or control of Indian entities from resident Indian citizens to non-resident entities. Other foreign investments will be subject to conditions of Government approval and compliance of sectoral conditions as per FDI Policy. The total foreign investment, direct and indirect, in our Company will not exceed the sectoral/statutory cap.
